

"KILL," SAYS FUGITIVE

PRELATE URGES CATHOLICS ARM AGAINST MEXICO

Boycott Fails as Church Weapon.

BY JOHN CORNYN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
MEXICO CITY, March 14.—The Catholic boycott has failed and it is now time to get by force of arms what the church has not been able to obtain by the other method, according to a circular ascribed to Francisco Orozco y Jimenes, archbishop of Guadalajara, which the Catholic revolutionary junta has been circulating extensively throughout Mexico.
The archbishop, who spent several years of exile in the United States, was for a time stationed at St. Xavier's church in Wilmette.
The circular advises the Catholics to distribute Catholic campaign literature and back the revolution now under way. It also urges women of good families to cease advocating the boycott and come to the war front, where their services will soon be needed as war nurses.
Claims Prelate Leads Troops.
El Sol, the labor organ, this afternoon publishes information from the state of Jalisco saying the archbishop now is with the revolutionary forces in the highlands of the state of Jalisco, where he has taken command of the revolution, and with him are four priests, whose names are published.
The archbishop, it is claimed, has assumed the title of commander in chief of the Catholic revolutionary army.
Numerous women of good families who have been engaged in distributing the Catholic campaign literature on the streets here adopted a new mode of procedure today. They approached the people of the lower classes in the streets, inducing them to distribute the literature on the advance of certain money and the promise of more when the distribution was finished.
Arrest Distributors of Circulars.
The metropolitan police today arrested several persons for distributing Catholic circulars. The peasants complained that they could not read and did not know the contents or nature of the circulars which had been given to them by well dressed women, who said they were.
In Guadalajara several priests were arrested. They are accused of being engaged in a plot against the government.
A desperate battle was fought between Yaqui Indians and federal troops under the command of Gen. Belandier in the Matamoros canyon in the Bacatote mountains. The Indians in strong force held their own against the federal forces of morning until nightfall. The loss on both sides was understood to be heavy.
Mexican Returns on Peace Mission.
Mexican Ambassador Manuel Telles, on reaching Washington, will attempt to convince the American government that it should wait the decision of the Supreme court on injunctions asked by American oil men against the petroleum law. It was learned from authoritative sources that Ambassador Telles brought to Mexico the fact that, in effect, an oral ultimatum from Washington in which the Mexican government was given a limited time to meet President Coolidge's demands for the protection of American interests on the threat of withdrawal of recognition and lifting of the arms embargo.
It was asserted here that Senator Chandler was instructed to inform President Coolidge that the oil cases are now in the hands of the Mexican supreme court and the Mexican government is unable to anticipate the future action of the court. Hence, Ambassador Telles will request an extension of time.

Dever Stamps Thompson as 'a Clown'

OPENS BATTLE BEFORE CROWD IN G. O. P. WARD

Declares Big Bill Issues False.

REGISTER TODAY
If you are not a registered voter, today is your only chance to get on the registry books for the mayoralty election April 5. Polling places are open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
Mayor Dever, with his jaw stuck out, opened his campaign in fighting form last night with an attack on the eight years' regime of Thompsonism. He said it left a wreckage at the city hall that filled him with "horror and consternation" when he took office. Thompson, he declared, is seeking by buffoonery and clowning to laugh his record off, and by appeals to race and religious prejudices to bury the real issues.
The mayor appeared in the Fiftieth ward before a capacity audience at 4874 Lincoln avenue, in the heart of the strong Thompson precincts and he was accorded a warm welcome. His initial appearance on the eve of registration day, when activities in all camps were directed to plans for getting out the unregistered vote, is expected by party leaders to give momentum to today's registration.
Scorns Fight on King.
In opening the ball, the mayor dealt humorously with William Hale Thompson's line of goods. He declared he did not intend to compete in buffoonery, and that Big Bill could have the king of England all to himself. The jovial vein was quickly succeeded by the beligerent, and the mayor brought his listeners cheering to their feet by tearing into his opponent.
"What an insult to the intelligence of the people," said the mayor, "that in this age in the city of Chicago, the most marvelous city the world has ever seen, the voters should be invited to meetings to listen to such claptrap about the British king."
"Thompson wants to turn the campaign into buffoonery for the purpose of making the people laugh instead of think. I want the people to think."
"No Time for Clowning."
"My opponent, seeking a laugh with buffoonery, appeals in some districts on the color ground, in other regions on the religious ground—anything to divert the attention of the voter in the hope that in forgetfulness and laughter the wrong verdict will be given April 5. This campaign is above personalities, factionalism, partisanship. This is a critical time in Chicago's history and not one to be met by clowning."
The mayor was accompanied by a battery of other orators, chief of them being Michael L. Igoe, minority leader of the house at Springfield, introduced as "the human dynamo." Mr. Igoe alluded to Thompson on the issue of Volsteadism, and painted him as being both wet and dry to suit the time and place—webfooted in his present campaign, Igoe said, but a camel last November when he supported favored candidates of the Anti-Saloon league.
The mayor, too, used his cudgels on what was termed "the amphibian characteristics of certain gentlemen," and asked where was Bill when Dever was before congress fighting for modification of the Volstead act.
Supported Dry Candidate.
"It Barnum was alive," said Mr. Igoe, "he wouldn't have to hunt further than Chicago to find the greatest clown for his circus. And because this fellow is a clown, with jumping jack antics, the people laugh and he doesn't have to answer. It makes him a peculiar individual to oppose."
"Thompson says he is as wet as the Atlantic ocean. We had a campaign last year and had a candidate whose issue was to modify the Volstead act."
"Thompson, however, supported the candidate of the Anti-Saloon league, Frank L. Smith, who was for sustaining the law to the fullest. When Thompson as a candidate says he is liberal, we can throw back in his face the lie of it, because last November he supported the candidates of the Anti-Saloon league."
Richard Yates and Henry Rathbone, congressmen at large, were supported by the Anti-Saloon league.

HIGH SCHOOL GIRL KILLED; YOUTH HELD AS SLAYER

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Anna Harris, 16 years old, honor high school student, was shot and killed under mysterious circumstances today in her home. She was found lying on a bed, with a bullet wound under her left arm, sprawled on the floor beside the dining room table, which was strewn with her algebra and Latin textbooks and note books. She died without being able to tell who had shot her or disclose the slayer's motive.
Walter Goldberg, 18 years old, was arrested on a charge of homicide after he had been questioned for several hours. Police said Goldberg had contradicted himself many times.
Jealousy is believed to have been the motive for the killing. The Goldberg live next door to the Harris family. "Wallie" Goldberg formerly was a schoolmate of Anna Harris. He also attended the same Sunday school as Anna at the Edgewood Reformed church.
Young Goldberg denied he had shot the girl, but admitted having two pistols.
Detectives learned from members of the Harris family that Goldberg had threatened to kill Anna about a month ago, because she objected to her receiving attentions from other young men. He denied this.

Daughter of Rosenwald Not to Wed—Now

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
PARIS, March 14.—Mrs. Armand Deutsch, comfortably established in an elegant little apartment in Paris, declined tonight to be rushed into matrimony.
"I haven't any plans whatever, much less intent to get married," she told The Tribune correspondent tonight in answer to the persistent report that she and Dr. David Levy of Chicago, a psychiatrist, are contemplating marriage the moment Dr. Levy, who is apparently trying to stampede a well known firm of Paris lawyers to get him divorced as soon as possible, is free.
"I hardly know him," said Mrs. Deutsch, with a shy grin, while her maid looked startled.
Dr. Levy a Daily Caller.
Mrs. Deutsch returned today from a week's end in the countryside near Paris, where the chestnut trees are beginning to blossom. She declined to say where she had been and whose guest she was.
Since his arrival in Paris ten days ago Dr. Levy has been a daily caller at the smart apartment house in Avenue d'Enfer overlooking the Trocadero gardens, the Seine, and across the river from Eiffel tower.
"Frankly," said the daughter of Julius Rosenwald, "I am not keen on having my affairs in the papers, but as long as it has to be I must insist that all these reports are nonsense."
Again the Maid Looks Puzzled.
"So, just to save everybody from lying awake nights with worry," Mrs. Deutsch, can you back up such a statement with the promise that the next three or four weeks will not see you married to Dr. Levy?" she was asked.
"Three or four weeks?" O. yes, indeed, at least that. I hardly know him," whereupon the French maid looked still more puzzled.
Mrs. Deutsch appears now and then at quiet studio parties, avoiding the well known hangouts such as the Ritz, Ciro's and the Montmartre, while she and Dr. Levy are never seen together.
Armand Deutsch himself, it is believed, has returned from a little jaunt to Egypt to show Mrs. Roslyn Wainwright how to ride a camel.

BROWNING DIVORCE DECISION WILL BE ANNOUNCED TODAY

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—The matrimonial fate of "Peaches" Heenan Browning and her husband, Edward West Browning, is sealed in half a dozen sheets of legal foolscap and may be announced to a waiting crowd tomorrow.
Supreme Court Justice Seeger, who presided at the trial of Browning's separation action and "Peaches" counter suit has written his decision, it was learned today.
Subject to a few minor corrections and the affixing of the judge's signature, it is ready to be mailed to Edward S. Agor, county clerk of Putnam county, at Carmel, where the first session of the famous trial for separation and alimony began.
One report was that Browning has won his suit against Peaches and that Peaches has lost her counter suit and plea for alimony.
Part of the Chinese navy located at Shanghai has deserted to the Cantonese Admiral Yang Shu-Chiang and joined the nationalist committee at Hankow. Three Chinese gunboats attached to the revolting fleet proceeded up the Yangtze river to Kiangling for the purpose of transporting nationalist troops to Nanking and preventing Gen. Chang Chung-chang from ferrying the northern troops across the Yangtze.
The number of northern troops along the railway between Nanking and Shanghai is estimated at approximately 50,000, while the southerners are supposed to have about 60,000. Although the nationalists have announced they do not intend to force a battle adjacent to the foreign area, the northerners hereabouts apparently expect the attack, since they are stationing machine gun detachments near the foreign boundaries, the guns being manned by white Russian mercenaries employed by the Fengtien forces.

Midnight tonight is the latest time to file income tax schedules.

At closing time last night $8,000 schedules had been received and $15,112,301.62 paid in, as compared with 60,558 schedules and $9,830,573.87 for the same period last year.

ARMED CONVICT DEFIES POLICE; LEOPOLD NAMED

Franks Slayer Said to Be Plotter.

Bernardo Roa, who escaped from the Joliet jail last Saturday while under sentence to be hanged, is lying in a secret stronghold, armed with two shotguns and two pistols, awaiting an opportunity to make good his boast: "I'll kill fifteen policemen and shoot myself with the last bullet."
This information, relayed to detectives by a Mexican pool hall proprietor, who heard it from one of Roa's countrymen, who asserted that he could tell the location of the hiding place, last night caused the police to redouble their efforts to capture the desperate criminal.
The informant of the poolroom owner and a close friend were seized, thrown into a cell in an outlying police station, and held incommunicado. The police who arrested them asserted that they had denied knowing Roa or his whereabouts, but a sergeant from the South Chicago station who has seen Roa on several occasions hastily boarded a train for Detroit shortly before midnight.
Work with Detroit Police.
From Chicago to Detroit messages went during the evening. The local detective bureau, apparently trusting the newest tip as authentic, held the details secret.
Sergeant Alfred Johnson, the sergeant who caught the Detroit train, speaks fluent Spanish. Once he arrested Roa, the bureau wants him on hand to make a positive identification if the desperado is caught in the Michigan city.
Jesus Hernandez, pool hall owner, declared that his information came from Alvinio Martinez, 3944 Burley avenue.
"He told me," Hernandez said, "that he could lead the police right to Roa. He said Roa had plenty of ammunition and was not going back to jail; that he would shoot all the policemen who came, and then shoot himself before he'd go back to his rope."
Hold Garza as Escape Plotter.
Another man arrested with Martinez, Marcelino Garza, 3945 Burley avenue, is alleged to have been an accomplice in the escape plot and to have furnished one of the pistols that was smuggled into the cell of the three Mexican prisoners who saved their way out. Only Roa of that trio still is at large. Gregorio Rizzo, wounded, and Robert Torres were arrested Saturday morning.
The Mexican colony in South Chicago was in a state of nervous excitement all yesterday. Fears were freely expressed that Roa, known as the most desperate of all the six convicts who were sentenced to death for the murder of Deputy Prison Warden Peter Klein last spring, might take revenge on those he regarded as informers.
Detective bureau squads ranged from poolroom to poolroom and from drink parlor to restaurants, seeking men or women who might give some word as to where Roa could be found.
Warned to Shoot First.
In view of Roa's boast and his known record, all squads in the hunt for him were warned to shoot first and take no chances when he is found.
One of the stories picked up in the Mexican quarter was that Roa was seen to get into a green cab Saturday night and heard to order the driver to take him to Indiana Harbor. Police there and in East Chicago were taking a hand in the search.
The Gary police also stepped in with a tip that resulted in the arrest at Warsaw, Ind., of two Mexicans who were riding blind baggage on a Pennsylvania train bound for New York. They said they were Rudolph Romero and Luis Sanchez of Gary. The Gary police asserted that their descriptions did not tally with Roa's.
Many Mexicans Seized.
In a raid on a house at 9900 The Strand, South Chicago, late last night, Emilio Gonzales, a half brother of Juanita Gallardo, Roa's sweetheart, was arrested. So were fifteen more Mexicans.
While the intensive manhunt was going on in Chicago, the southern suburbs and in Detroit, the investigation of the escape of the three men was being carried on in Joliet.
Leopold Furnished Cash?
One of the reports brought to the attention of State's Attorney Heilmann Rehn of Will county was that Nathan F. Leopold, serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for murder, had furnished the funds that made possible the jail break of Saturday.

with prisoners taken in Chicago, declared he was satisfied Leopold had planned the escape. The original tip came from Charles Duchowsky, one of the three Americans sentenced with the Mexicans for the murder of Klein.

It was Duchowsky, according to Sheriff Markgraf of Will county, who first directed attention to Leopold as the financial power behind the break of Saturday morning.

Presents Worn Out Saws.

"Two or three weeks ago," said the sheriff, "he asked that I come to his cell. I went, and he handed me a large envelope that contained two hard objects. In my office I opened it and found that the hard objects were worn out saws. I went back and talked to Duchowsky and he told me that Guard Edward Gibbons had given him the saws."

"Then he told me that he would have nothing to do with an escape plot. He swore that all he wanted was a new trial and a chance to take the stand."

"If I do," he said, "I'll tell a story that will be amazing. I'll implicate Leopold in all that went on in the penitentiary."

Sheriff Markgraf agreed that the jail was not a safe place to hold men of the type of the six killers, and added that he had made efforts as late as the Wednesday before they escaped to have them confined in the penitentiary until it was time for them to be hanged.

"But there was so much red tape I had to pass up the idea," he said.

Four Mexican residents of Joliet, arrested previously, were formally charged yesterday with aiding the escape from jail. They are Julian Elisalde and his daughter, Atliana; Frank Ayala and his wife, Eloisa Ayala.

Like Saws Railroad Uses.

All live in the old Santa Fe depot in Joliet. The saws furnished to the prisoners, it was disclosed in the investigation, were similar to those used by the railroad. Writs of habeas corpus, filed in behalf of these Mexicans, were not opposed by Mr. Rehn. The arrests on the formal charge followed their release on the writs.

Bonds were fixed at $5,000 for each of the four. The statute provides a fine of $1,000 and as much as a year in jail for harboring or aiding escaped prisoners, but adds a special penalty for the crime when the men who escape are sentenced to death. In that case a sentence of one to fourteen years in prison may be given.

Chief Schoemaker took with him to Joliet and turned over to State's Attorney Rehn for questioning the following: Salvatore Rizzo, 3005 Green Bay avenue, a brother of Gregoria Rizzo, one of the escaping men who was shot and captured; Juanita Galardo, sweetheart of Bernardo Rizo, the only one of the trio who is still at large; Jesse Gonzales, 147 West 25th street, step-brother of Juanita, and his wife, who is a Negress; Jose De La Torre, 3005 Green Bay avenue; Anton Kolganich, owner of a poolroom at the same address, and Nettie Hurd, colored, who lives with Salvatore Rizzo.

All, in the belief of Chief of Detectives Schoemaker, were involved in the plot.

Juanita and her aids were too slow in arriving, and the prisoners had to get their saws from the Joliet Mexicans who imbedded them in bananas carried to the prisoners.

NEW ESCAPES AT JOLIET MAY REOPEN SCANDAL

Two Convicts Retaken; Jenkins Under Attack.

ORIGINAL COURT.

James Finney, attempted burglary, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary; Robert O. Wacht, robbery, sentence 1 to 10 years in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Samuel Eller.

Sipon Guyton, burglary, sentence 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary; Leonard Blawern, assault with intent to murder, sentence 1 year in the bidwell by Judge Phillip L. Sullivan.

Attempted escape of two convicts from the stone quarry at Joliet penitentiary yesterday, on the heels of the charges following the break of three condemned Mexicans from the Will county jail last Saturday, seemed likely last night to reopen the whole Illinois prison scandal that was subject to inquiry by two grand juries last May.

The sudden snapping of weak links in the state's penal system at once recalled that Gov. Len Small never has fulfilled the demands of either the Will or the Cook county grand juries, which investigated conditions, nor has he ever paid any attention to the recommendations of a coroner's jury in the case of Deputy Warden Peter Klein, killed by seven convicts, in their escape last May.

The Cook county grand jury daily demanded the ouster of Chauncey H. Jenkins, director of the state department of public welfare, the man in charge of all state institutions, together with those of Warden John L. Whitman of Joliet penitentiary, and Will Colvin, head of the pardon board. Since then Mr. Whitman died.

The removal of Whitman and Colvin was accomplished. The Will county grand jury and the coroner's jury demanded a thorough housecleaning of the state department of public welfare, headed by Jenkins.

Jenkins, however, never was fired, nor was his department subjected to the demanded probe. As one of the officials, investigating the latest jail break and attempted escape, said yesterday:

"Jenkins is still there and the escapes still go on."

The two convicts who made an attempt to break away yesterday were Leonardo Russo and Joseph Pasquale, both sentenced from Chicago for robbery. They were gone only a short time, but some fifty shots were fired by them by excited guards and the whole penitentiary section of Joliet was thrown into an uproar before they were recaptured.

Russo and Pasquale were taken to the prison quarry with a detail of 150 men early yesterday morning. They went to work like the others, but kept a furtive eye on their guards.

Two Convicts Escape.

As the din of rock crushing and the blasting of rock grew louder, they suddenly bolted, kicked two boards out of the high fence surrounding the quarry, and started running across a small field to the street.

In a moment, as the two men fled, there arose the danger of a general break by the remaining criminals. Guards, however, prevented this by not at once taking after the two fleeing ones, but instead training their guns on those who remained.

Russo was captured later in a barn and Pasquale in a nearby back yard. The three condemned Mexicans who made the break from the Will county jail on Saturday were the men who, with four others, killed Deputy Klein in making their escape from the new Stateville prison plant three miles out of Joliet last May.

Six of the seven, in contingents of one and two, were recaptured after several officers had been wounded in battles with them, and Bernardo Rizo, leader of the jail break last Saturday, and the only one of the 3 Mexicans who remains at large, was shot 15 times. The seventh man never was recaptured. The six were tried for Klein's murder and sentenced to die on the gallows.

The Cook county grand jury of last May in its report in which it recommended the ouster of Jenkins as well as that of Colvin, said:

"... the evidence is of such a character that we are constrained to say that we believe that public confidence has been utterly destroyed in C. J. Jenkins and Will Colvin. We recommend the immediate removal of C. J. Jenkins and Will Colvin for cause shown."

WIFE, 20, CLAIMS WIDOW, 60, WON AWAY HUSBAND

Youthful love in a cottage lost out to age and wealth in a mansion, according to the story of an odd rivalry between a 20 year old bride and Mrs. Julia M. Kuhn, 60 years old, a widow living at 3025 Eastwood avenue, as revealed yesterday in a suit filed in the Superior court.

Mrs. Lillian Testard, 20 years old, asked $25,000 from Mrs. Kuhn, charging the alienation of the affections of her husband, Wilbur Testard, 37 years old, a goodlooking chauffeur. She declared, through her attorney, Rush B. Johnson, that her husband left her two months after their marriage last April because he was unable to resist the allurements of Mrs. Kuhn, who offered him large sums of money and expensive presents.

Her youthful charms and the small home she furnished meant nothing to her husband after Mrs. Kuhn presented him with a $1,500 diamond ring, an automobile and many large gifts of money, Mrs. Testard charged. He left her last June and went on a trip to Canada with Mrs. Kuhn, the aged widow paying all expenses, it is said.

When informed of the filing of the suit, Mrs. Kuhn refused to comment. "The charges are too ridiculous to answer," she remarked.

Another alienation of affections suit was started at the same time by Ralph White, 3145 Franklin boulevard, cigar manufacturer, against E. K. Tillman, connected with H. O. Stone & Co., real estate brokers. White asked for $100,000 damages. He charged that Tillman broke up his home and that when Mrs. Lulu White left her home she told her husband that she did it for love of Tillman.

PERNEKES CASE DELAY AROUSES IRE OF WARDEN

Warden Demands Action by Supreme Court.

For 20 months Henry J. (Midge) Pernekes and his pals, John Flannery and Daniel L. McGeehan, have been dodging punishment for the murder of a building and loan association during a robbery. Yesterday Warden Edward J. Fogarty of the state jail demanded to know how much longer he is to be forced to watch with the desperate bandits.

For 13 months the Supreme court has been pondering over the question of whether to enforce a verdict rendered by 12 citizens of the community and Fogarty is growing impatient at the slowness of the state wheels of justice.

Lined to Jail Breakers.

The escape from Joliet jail by the three Mexican bandits after a stay had been granted on the eve of their execution called attention to the situation in the Pernekes case, as well as that of Russell Scott, who has been waiting an appeal since last October.

"Pernekes is as desperate as any of the men involved in the Joliet escape and something should be done in the Pernekes case, as well as that of Russell Scott," said Warden Fogarty. "Time and again he has attempted to break out of jail and if given half a chance would not hesitate to kill in order to accomplish his aim."

"It is a rotten situation. Something should be done to remedy this condition; revise the law or whatever is necessary, to bring about speedy execution of sentence in every case. Swift and sure punishment is the only deterrent to crime and if crooks see that the penalties imposed are not promptly enforced the effect is lost."

"By the time a sentence is executed in this state the community forgets what the criminal is being punished for."

Wanted in New York.

Attaches of the Criminal courts point out that perhaps justice would have been better served had Pernekes at the time of his arrest been turned over to the New York authorities to stand trial in Rockland county for the murder of two men during a bank robbery in 1921.

The murder for which Pernekes, McGeehan and Flannery are under sentence of death is that of Michael Swiontkowski, treasurer of a building and loan association. He was shot and killed March 19, 1925, while resisting an $18,000 pay roll robbery.

Pernekes crime career started in 1914 when he was 18 years old. At that time he was caught in the act of robbing employees of a loop building while armed with two revolvers. That first crime seemed to have charmed the course of his life. His tactics in all his future 25 or more bank robberies, his murders and even his numerous attempts to break jail, were always the same as in his first boyish escapade.

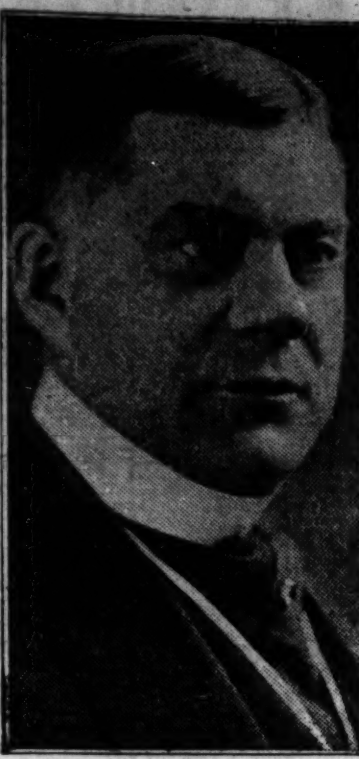

Let Jail Breakers.

Time and again since the sentence of death was imposed a year ago January Pernekes has headed attempted jail deliveries. Finally Warden Fogarty decided to treat him somewhat after the fashion of a wild animal and had him placed in a specially constructed cell away from other prisoners.

The unfortunate occurrence at Joliet emphasizes the necessity for a more speedy determination of criminal cases, particularly those involving desperate men under sentence of death," said Henry Barrett Chamberlin, operating director of the Chicago crime commission, in discussing the situation. "A case in point is that of Pernekes, McGeehan and Flannery."

In considering law revision, account should be taken of the necessity for speedy determination of capital cases and provision made to enable the court of last resort to dispose of such cases without delay. The Pernekes case has been before the court six terms without determination. While there is unquestionably some good rea-

HARDING-CERMAK FIGHT RENEWED; BOTH PRINT BILLS

Dispute Over Taxes Nears
Court Hearing.

Taxpayers of Cook county again are faced with the possibility of receiving duplicate tax bills next month, one from the billing department under control of the county board, and one from County Treasurer George F. Harding. The latter yesterday set 25 girl typists to work printing a new set of bills.

The controversy between Mr. Harding and Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, immediately flared up to new heat. The billing department has already practically completed work on more than 2,000,000 bills, and it had been expected that the fight over who should print the bills would be settled quietly or by a compromise.

Asks Board to Act.

President Cermak presented a resolution before the board calling upon Treasurer Harding to mail out the bills prepared for him by the county's billing department. The real purpose of the resolution, he said, was to get the dispute into court as soon as possible, so that the legal phases of the case might be defined.

Discussion on the resolution was postponed until Friday morning, when Mr. Harding will appear with his attorneys. Plans will be made at that time, it was said, for one of the parties to the quarrel to file a suit and obtain a court's decision on the matter. The typists hired by Treasurer Harding are being paid out of his own pocket and he is prepared to stand the expense of putting out the 2,500,000 tax bills if necessary, he said.

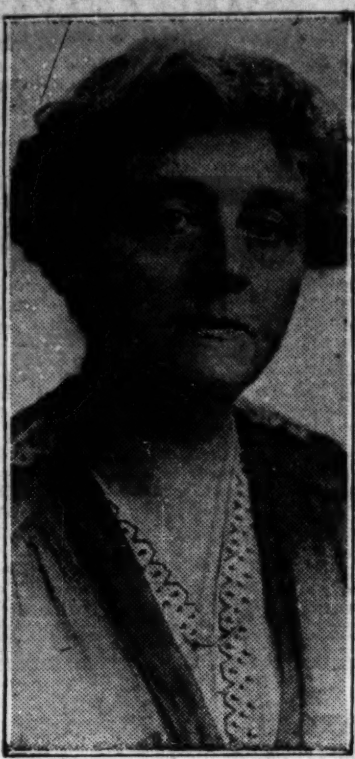

System Used Three Years.

For three years the county billing department had made out the tax bills and sent them to the county treasurer for checking and mailing. The bills were printed by machine and the county was thus saved $440,000 annually, according to advocates of the system. No question was ever raised about the legality of the proceeding, it being accepted that the board in creating such a department acted within its authority.

But when Mr. Harding assumed office he petitioned for additional employees to print the bills. The law required him to do the work, he asserted, and he questioned the legality of tax bills prepared by any one but the county treasurer.

The Circuit court judges committee on help denied Harding's petition and the county board backed it up by refusing to appropriate for salaries for additional employees. The treasurer then threatened to hire and pay the employees himself.

MISS ELIZABETH WALLACE.

Miss Elizabeth Wallace, connected with the University of Chicago since the founding of the institution in 1892, will retire in June and devote herself exclusively to her newly found pastime, sculpture, she announced yesterday. At present Miss Wallace, who is 62 years old, is professor of French literature at the university.

Two years ago Miss Wallace became interested in sculpture, and so great became its lure, she says, that ever since she has longed to retire to the home of her two brothers in Minneapolis and devote herself to it. She is the author of a number of books and articles, chief among which is "Mart Twain and the Happy Island," published in 1912. She was active in Red Cross work in France during the world war. For many years she was a dean of women at the University of Chicago.

SEGREGATION OF NEW ORLEANS BLACKS INVALID

Washington, D. C., March 14.—Louisiana state and New Orleans municipal segregation codes under which Negroes are barred from residence in predominantly white communities where a majority of the white residents have not given their consent in writing were held unconstitutional by the United States Supreme court today.

The case came up from New Orleans, where a Negro, seeking to rent apartments in a white community to other Negroes, was enjoined and carried his contention that the restrictions were invalid and unconstitutional to the state Supreme court. The latter court's ruling upholding the injunction order was reversed in today's decision, which briefly cited as ground for the reversal "the authority of Buchanan vs. Wadley," involving a Louisville, Ky., ordinance, prohibiting Negroes from occupying homes in blocks where the majority of residents were white.

All Restrictions Differ.

New Orleans, La., March 14.—(AP)—The New Orleans States said today that the decision of the United States Supreme court that local and state segregation ordinances were invalid removes all restrictions barring Negroes from any residential section of New Orleans in which they wish to live.

CALL OFF SUIT OVER CHEETAH'S TASTE OF COP

Just when Chicago's court fans were all set to hear a $5,000 damage suit over the bite which a pet cheetah took out of a policeman's leg, the two principals in the case got together yesterday and called it off.

Sergt. Wellington W. Britton, animal expert of the detective bureau, had threatened the action against Mr. and Mrs. John Wentworth, who keep two of the tamed jungle cats, Percy and Nellie, in their home at 1240 Lake Shore drive. Percy nipped the officer's leg when he went out to see if they were dangerous.

"I went out to see Mr. Wentworth," said Sergt. Britton last night. "He is a very nice man. We came to a settlement and he said he is going to take the cheetahs away for a while until all the publicity blows over."

What the settlement was or where the cheetahs are going the officer did not say.

Oak Park School Boy, Ill.,
Sent to Home, Disappears

Oak Park and Chicago police were asked last night to search for Stanley Johnson, 16, of 547 Cuyler avenue, Oak Park, who disappeared in the morning from the Oak Park High school after telling his teachers he was feeling ill. They sent him home, but when he had not arrived at 10 o'clock his father, Harry C. Johnson, asked the police to look for him.

PREACHERS CALL THOMPSON CITY'S WORST MAYOR

Dever Is Best, They Say
Aid His Campaign.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

William Hale Thompson was branded yesterday as the worst mayor Chicago ever had and his eight years' administration as the worst administration in Chicago's history, while Mayor William E. Dever was praised as Chicago's best mayor and his four years' administration as the best in Chicago's history.

This sentiment was expressed at a meeting of 100 Protestant ministers, strongly Republican in national politics, at the Morrison hotel. The call for the meeting was signed by Bishop Edwin E. Hughes, Methodist Episcopal; Dr. John Timothy Stone, Presbyterian; Dr. Charles W. Gilkey, Baptist; Dr. C. C. Morrison, Disciples of Christ, and editor of The Christian Century, and Dr. Omer S. Davis, president of the Chicago Theological (Congregational) seminary.

Urges Registration Today.
After scoring Thompson and his record, motions were passed urging all ministers to use their strongest personal influence and endeavors in getting out today a full registration of voters and approving the continuance of the original committee of five which called the meeting with authority to add to their number and call other meetings as desired.

Dr. Davis presided. He declared himself personally for Dever for mayor and said his children were so much interested in his daughter called on 27 Saturday urging them to register. "There are 400,000 eligible voters who have not registered," said Prof. Graham Taylor. "If 200,000 of them can be induced to register Dever will win hands down. It is the good, conservative people who fail to register while the champions of vice are always on hand."

Col. Raymond Robins was another speaker, and it was he who characterized the Thompson regime as the worst and the Dever regime as the best in Chicago's history.

Lauds Dever's Character.
Dr. James Ainslie, pastor of the Argyll Community church, who said he would vote for Mayor Dever because he knew by personal acquaintance of Dever's uprightness of character, proposed the motions, and Dr. John R. Nichols, president of the Chicago Church Federation, seconded them. "If we had nothing else than Mayor

FERGUSON'S RIGHTS AS CITIZEN IN HANDS OF TEXAS GOVERNOR

Austin, Tex., March 14.—(AP)—The bill repealing the amnesty measure, passed two years ago in behalf of James E. Ferguson, who was impeached as governor in 1917, was passed by the house of representatives tonight. It now goes to Governor Dan Moody for his signature, the measure having passed the senate recently.

The vote for 18 to 25. The amnesty bill, as passed by the 39th legislature, when Ferguson's wife Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, was in office, was intended to restore Ferguson to his former political status, entitling him to hold state office, despite his impeachment.

Dever's clean personal life, we would have enough to warrant us as ministers in working for his election," said the Rev. Perry J. Rice, head of city missions of the Disciples of Christ and chairman of the commission on religious education of the Chicago Church Federation.

In reply to the question, "How About John Dill Robertson?" Col. Robins replied: "John Dill Robertson is a mere diversion. If all that Robertson says about the mistakes of Thompson are true, he is self-condemned, for he helped put through the Chicago program and helped maintain it."

DEVER LAUNCHES HIS CAMPAIGN IN REPUBLICAN WARD

now says he is wet as the Atlantic supported Smith, Yates and Rathbone, all Anti-Saloon league candidates.

"Another link in the chain. The Anti-Saloon league is first cousin to the Ku Klux Klan. Well, less than a week after Rathbone had been elected congressman at large it was announced from Washington that he had been appointed as the official broadcaster of the K. K. K. in Washington. That's the kind of candidates the clown supported."

"Well, he's wet enough to become pretty moist himself, but he doesn't care how anybody else gets along."

Mr. Igoe touched upon the opening of Mr. Thompson's campaign with his Friday and Sunday speeches to Negro voters on the south side.

History in Courts.
Mayor Dever, taking up the eight years of Thompsonism, said: "Eight years of that regime I found written into the history of the city, of the criminal court, of the grand jury, into the history of a depleted treasury, into a city nearly bankrupt."

"It is said we are costing the taxpayers $2,000,000 more than the former administration. True. But $45,000,000 of that was put into new public schools. When I became mayor for years not a school had been built and 30,000 pupils were without seats. We built 68 new schoolhouses in three years for 72,000 children."

DEFEND PATENT ON REMEDY FOR SCARLET FEVER
Unfavorable criticism by British physicians was met last night by Drs. George F. and Gladys Dick of Chicago, whose application for a patent on their toxin and anti-toxin for scarlet fever had caused stir in London. The two Chicagoans on their way to the west coast for a vacation, telegraphed from Laramie, Wyo.

"As was done in case of the British patent on insulin," the message said, "scarlet fever patients were placed in the hands of a committee which administers them with the sole object of protecting the public against inferior preparations. The committee requires manufacturers licensed under patent to distribute only those products which are properly prepared, accurately standardized and put up in correct dosage. That committee will welcome the cooperation of British medical research council in similar work in England. We will be glad to give you more detailed information on return."

The basis of the adverse criticism in England, according to cable dispatches, was said to be the understanding that the two American doctors were seeking to turn their discoveries to private profit. The inference was denied by Dr. George Dick. He said the application for the patent was filed on the advice of the director of the hygienic laboratory of the United States Public Health Service. His message said the committee he described was busy "ridding the United States of unsatisfactory preparations."

HOPE TO BOOST REGISTRATION BY 100,000 TODAY

Last Minute Organization Meetings Held.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Right and early today, all the political camps will start the roundup of registered voters, to get them on the lists for the April 5 election. In the last night the Democrats held organization meetings for Mayor Thompson to stir up the precinct workers. The Crow-Galpin-Thompson organization in behalf of William Hale Thompson, following an earlier session of ward chiefs at the Sherman hotel, today laid it down cold that the day has a vital bearing on the next month, and from all appearances there will be more doorbell ringing to rouse the laggards today than in any year.

Politicians generally predict that between 75,000 and 100,000 will be added to the 937,000 now on the books. It may run higher, and the expectation at the election board rooms is that after the canvass a total of at least 1,100,000 will be qualified to vote in the great struggle over mayor.

In the big Republican wards the Republican and Independent Republican forces will make an unusual effort to get out the unregistered in behalf of Mayor Dever.

Answer Extravagance Charge.

The nonpartisan people's Dever committee came out with a comparison of city and municipal expenditures under Thompson and Dever by way of answering charges of extravagance made by Mr. Thompson. In a bulletin that was sent broadcast to taxpayers last night, it said:

"Under Thompson from 1915 to 1922 the appropriations made from the corporate fund increased from $27,160,477.32 to $50,654,444.44, an increase of $23,492,967.12, or approximately 86 per cent."

"Under Dever the appropriations from the same fund increased from $18,514,092.32 to $23,509,937.05, an increase of only $5,000,844.73, or slightly more than 25 per cent."

Says Schools Were Looted.

"The comparison of the appropriations from the school fund is even more startling. Under Thompson they increased from $20,770,000 in 1915 to $17,350,000 in 1923, an increase of $36,000,000, or 185 per cent. During this entire time only 24 schoolhouses were built and the schools were looted right and left."

"Under Dever the appropriations increased from $10,350,000 in 1924 to $11,500,000, an increase of only $1,150,000, or about 10 per cent."

"It must be remembered that under the Dever administration notable improvements were made, 13 new schools built, the number of branch libraries increased. In spite of these expenditures the natural increase in appropriations was kept down materially."

No Thompson Meetings.

Mr. Thompson had no meetings scheduled last night on account of the registration drive. In a statement he repeated some of his utterances on "Dever Didn't."

"Dever didn't drive the gunmen and the handouts out of Chicago as I did when I was mayor," he said.

"The discerning professors and professors who are manning the Dever mud batteries in accepting my slogan suggestion robbingly realized that before this campaign is over Dever will use an aim and the sooner they started saying 'Dever Didn't' the better for the mayor. The best he can hope to salvage out of this campaign is 'Dever Didn't' and it will need a whole herd of goats to carry the name of the shooting things that have occurred under the Dever administration."

Buch Demands Explanation.

Corporation Counsel Francis X. Buch challenged Thompson to be more specific in the charge he made at the mass meeting of Negro voters Sunday night in the Eighth Regiment armory that Thompson had been told that a gambling house was closed Friday that was protected by Mr. Buch.

"Thompson's reference to me in his book belt speech," said Mr. Buch, "is characteristic of the utter unfitness and irresponsibility of the fellow. The implication was absolutely false and he knows it."

Breakfasts that 'stand by' you

Urged as Essential to Success by Great Business Institutions

THE business world has learned that almost 70% of the day's important work falls into the four hour morning hours before luncheon. Thus correct breakfast eating, as essential to good work, is being urged on employees in such famous institutions as General Electric Co., James McCree's and many others.

SCANLAN RULING REOPENS ALBERT- HAFFA CONTEST

A recount of ballots in the Forty-third ward aldermanic contest between Ald. A. F. Albert and Titus Haffa will be completed by the election commissioners today or tomorrow as a result of a decision yesterday by Circuit Judge Kickham Scanlan.

Judge Scanlan denied the petition of Haffa's attorneys for a writ of prohibition to stop the recount on the ground that the city council, not the election board, has jurisdiction.

"You are asking me to stop a purely ministerial act on the part of Judge Jarecki in conducting the recount," the judge said. "You are wasting your time here."

Haffa, in the original count, was elected by a majority of 145. In the recount on 19 precincts Albert gained 10. Should he cut down Haffa's majority another 135 he will be entitled to a run-off election against him April 5.

KELLOGG DENIES ELECTION HAND IN NICARAGUA

Not a Proponent of Diaz;
Harvard Story Absurd.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Sweeping denial of published reports that Lawrence Kellogg, formerly chargé d'affaires at Managua, had been instructed to use pressure in bringing about the election of Adolfo Diaz as president of Nicaragua was made by Secretary of State Kellogg today on his return to Washington.

The secretary also flatly denied reports that the sons of the rich and social elite are advanced at a faster rate in the foreign diplomatic service than are the sons of other men. Intimation that Harvard men are favored when promotions are handed out was termed absurd.

In issuing these denials, Secretary Kellogg took notice for the first time of reports that Dennis, who is now returning to Washington from Managua, has charged the state department with incompetence in handling publicity, with favoring the sons of the wealthy and socially prominent and in directing American officials at Managua to use pressure in placing Diaz in power.

Neither Directly Nor Indirectly.

"The secretary of state," the formal statement said, "today issued a flat denial of any document purporting to have come from him either directly or indirectly instructing the legation or any representative of the United States to work for the election of Diaz or any other particular candidate. No such document was ever sent and no such instructions were ever given."

Intimations that the document is a forgery, placed in the state department mail directed to Nicaragua by Mexican propagandists, have been advanced in some quarters, but have not been confirmed.

Mr. Dennis is now on his way to Washington. The Washington Post, which published the story, said that a copy of the document was now in the possession of Dennis.

Whether their information came from Dennis or from another person who had knowledge of the state department's secret files could not be determined today, but there are indications that the latter assumption is true. This has raised the question of whether, in case the document is a forgery, Mr. Dennis acted upon instructions he thought genuine and exerted pressure to elect Diaz.

As to Harvard Charges.

One of the first things Secretary Kellogg is expected to discuss with Dennis is his resignation and the charges of favoritism which accompanied it. Mr. Dennis is understood to have charged that the best and most attractive diplomatic posts go to a certain clique of men who have money and social prestige. His friends say that he turned in his resignation because he had been kept on the job in Nicaragua, a hard post, while his wealthier friends who entered the service when he did were occupying soft berths in European capitals.

Mr. Kellogg today assumed responsibility for the recent promotion of ten men, six of whom had attended Harvard college. He asserted that he had no knowledge personally of where those men had gone to college and that he had made the appointments for the higher posts without consulting the foreign service personnel board headed by Acting Secretary of State Joseph C. Grew, a Harvard man.

Mr. Kellogg said that it is his constant effort to see that promotions go to the men who merit them. He emphasized that he considered the men recently selected for ministerial and ambassadorial posts as "eminently service men who were chosen because of their ability."

Records Show Cambridge Men.

Despite the denial that Harvard men are favored, the records show many Harvard men in the best positions in the state department and in the foreign service.

A study of the college affiliations of eighteen officials holding important positions in the state department at Washington, discloses that eight are Harvard men. This group included Secretary Kellogg, Undersecretary of State Grew, assistant secretaries and heads of divisions. Secretary Kellogg graduated from McGill university in Canada.

The 1927 foreign service bulletin of the United States lists twenty-two officers of the department, chiefs of mission and diplomatic agents promoted from the ranks of the foreign service. Of these eight graduated from Harvard and one took graduate work there.

Of the six members of the personnel board which recommends foreign service and consular officers for advancement up to the grade of minister, one man is from Harvard. The state department board of review, however, lists three men who attended Harvard and three from other colleges. This board changes annually and its mission is to rate the efficiency of officials in the consular and diplomatic service.

Defies Time
Ryto is permanent. It becomes an integral part of the paper on which it is written and remains legible as long as the paper lasts.

Exposure to light does not fade or alter Ryto. It remains as bright and clear as when first written. It is not affected by the heat of sunlight without fading.

Waterproof
Ryto is immune to water. This is protection that every man of business should have. You never need worry about important records being washed away when Ryto is used. Ryto prevents eye strain.

FOR ALL IMPORTANT WRITING

MODERN chemistry has developed a new ink. Brilliant in color. Lasting in quality. Heretofore it was necessary to sacrifice the permanency of records, if one would satisfy his desire for pretty colored ink—because the various blues, greens and violets now in vogue are not permanent. They are washed away with drops of water or a stream of sunlight. And what tragedy might visit one's heirs upon opening important documents a few years hence to find the once charming color faded to nothing.

But now—thanks to modern chemistry—you may enjoy a brilliant blue without sacrificing permanency. A new formula has been developed that gives a free flowing ink—beautiful in color and just as lasting as the old drab blue-black. It does not settle or cake in the bottle. Its brilliancy of color does not weaken or change.

This new ink is protection against the elements. It becomes an integral part of the paper. Water soaking cannot remove it. Neither can exposure to light. Nor does time dull its important message. Yet it yields readily to chemical erasers if applied soon after an error is made.

Horde, Inc., thinks this ink (Carter's Ryto is the name) such an important contribution to modern business, that every Horde store has been supplied with sample bottles to be distributed FREE to convince you that a new ink has really been developed.

$1,000,000 LIBEL SUIT AGAINST FORD ON TODAY

Chicagoan Loses Tilt in Preliminary.

Detroit, Mich., March 14.—[Special.] Legal skirmishes which lasted all day paved the way for the beginning tomorrow of the $1,000,000 libel suit brought by Aaron Sapiro, farm cooperative organizer of Chicago, against Henry Ford and his paper, the Dearborn Independent.

The suit, which will be tried before Federal Judge Fred S. Raymond, is based on a series of articles which appeared in the Dearborn Independent. These articles, Sapiro charges in his suit, libeled him in that they charged a Jewish conspiracy to control agriculture and also that Sapiro sought to use farmers' cooperative organizations for his private gain.

Reed Appears for Ford.

The trial brought into court today Ford's legal battery, headed by Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, and Sapiro's counsel, headed by Attorney William Henry Gallagher of Detroit.

The preliminaries to the suit began this morning with the attempt of Sapiro to insert a new paragraph in the petition. This paragraph, which charged that the Dearborn Independent used the word "Jew" as a term of scorn was not admitted by Judge Raymond, who held that no new charge of libel had been brought and that the paragraph merely would widen the scope of the case.

Sapiro's counsel then turned to attack the amended plea of Ford's attorneys, which was classed as "irrelevant, specious, confusing to the issues involved, and lacking in justification." After hearing Attorney Gallagher's arguments against the plea, Judge

Raymond reserved decision until tomorrow.

The claims of the two sides are at wide variance. Sapiro contends that hatred of him as a Jew and Ford's dislike of cooperative farming inspired the alleged libelous articles.

Reed Denies Charge.

Senator Reed, however, says: "Neither the principle of cooperative marketing nor the Jewish race is on trial. We are accused of libeling Mr. Sapiro, and it is therefore his work and the plan that he expounded that we seek to test. We claim that he was selfish in his motives, domineering in his tactics, harmful in his activities, and dangerous to the agricultural movement."

It is the contention of Sapiro's advisers that to prove the absence of libel in the series of articles printed and directed at Sapiro's connection with cooperative farming it was necessary for Ford counsel to prove two facts:

First, that there existed a "band of Jews" dedicating its energies to exploitation of the American farmer. Second, that Aaron Sapiro was a member of that band.

While Judge Raymond refused the plaintiff the right to amend his complaint, he declared his ruling would not involve the presentation of evidence.

The interpretation put upon the ruling that for the first time, in consequence, Henry Ford's Jewish bias will have a public airing, and the Sapiro suit will serve as an excuse for a general examination into the whys and wherefores of the Semitic attitude of the automobile manufacturer.

The jury panel will be drawn from the eastern half of Michigan and there will be a battle royal before the jury box is filled, it is generally believed, for prejudices for and against cooperative farming, religious considerations, some political tinges here and there, and a crazy quilt of other angles probably will have a bearing.

Whether Mr. Ford will appear personally is disputed. C. B. Longley of Ford's counsel said today that Mr. Ford had not been subpoenaed.

To this Gallagher answered: "A subpoena was tossed into Mr. Ford's lap several months ago. I am confident he will not make it necessary for us to ask the court to have him brought in."

ASK INSTRUCTED VERDICT FREEING HARRY SINCLAIR

Washington, D. C., March 14.—[Special.]—Justice William H. Taft, presiding in the District Supreme court over the trial of Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, charged with contempt of the senate, is expected to rule tomorrow on a motion offered today by defense counsel asking the court to instruct the jury to return a "not guilty" verdict.

Sinclair, who was indicted following his refusal to answer questions of the senate public lands and surveys committee during the Teapot Dome oil scandal investigation three years ago, is subject to a fine ranging from $100 to $1,000 and imprisonment of from one month to a year, if convicted.

His counsel today attacked the validity of the subpoena under which Sinclair was summoned by the senate and denied the power of the committee to place him under oath when he subsequently appeared.

"It Makes a Difference"

"As a matter of fact," said Wilfred as he typed an elegant mustache, "I feel my dear Mrs. Hamilton, that I cannot marry Miss Louise just now. I realize — of course — her — ah — good points, but the sardine business being what it is —"

"Yes, yes, my dear boy, I quite understand," replied Mrs. H., snuffling politely, "but I was hoping —"

"We all do that from time to time," said Wilfred dryly, "but unfortunately, there has been a lamentable slump in sardines. —"

"It will break her heart," moaned Mrs. H.

"She hates all fish," said W., severely.

"Oh, but not you," cried Mrs. H. coyly. "Besides, she has the loveliest trousseau!"

"That's just it," objected Wilfred. "I couldn't foot Lou's bills! She must pay thousands for clothes every year! Oh, I know her trousseau is magnificent, but do you suppose I can keep Lou in negligees, teddies, step-ins, dinner gowns, pajamas and God-knows-what on mere sardines?"

"Oh, my dear boy," said Mrs. H., deeply relieved, "Louise's bills! How absurd!"

"Well, how do I know where she buys her duds?" asked Wilfred, snappishly.

"Leschin's, of course," chorled Mrs. H., laying down all her hand at once.

"That does make a difference," said Wilfred, doing a lot of mental arithmetic, "so you may as well send out the invitations immediately."

Seen About Town

Alicia

The smart matron—how seldom one sees her! But when she wears a smart coat of reseda green broadcloth, with a deep shawl collar of gray squirrel, she can't help but be chic. Especially when she adds an airplane cap of soft gray, trimmed with plastrons of speckled-coque feathers! Gray lizard shoes and bag completed her charm. (Seen at Maillart's.)

Quite the smartest solution to chic—a slim chiffon frock simulating exactly the leopard lining of her black kasha coat, was worn by a vivacious brunette. Black suede pumps and a tiny black felt hat made her the most distinctive woman present. (Seen at Huyler's.)

Only the unusual woman can dare successfully put betwixt her chic many costume jewels. Such a one we saw lunching at the Congress—in a tiny cap and severe frock of Riviera blue marocain. She wore at least a dozen ropes of pearls of varying length, and pearl hoop earrings. But she did look very "du monde"—something rarely achieved.

A slim, sleek debbie, lunching at Woods, wore a good-looking O'Rosen tulle of gray kasha, with that dash and verve which is the attribute of youth. The tiny black felt which is so smart at present, and bag and slippers of matching water-snake completed her costume.

Acidophilus* Ends Auto-Intoxication

I HAVE been absolutely opposed to drugs of any kind for some years—yet suffered from Auto-Intoxication to an unusual extent. I was ready to believe that I would have to make the best of it. But here I am today—after trying to digest the foods of Japan, China, Hawaii, Philippines—trying to enjoy the Boats, Roofs of Old England and the delicacies of France—finding myself back in tip-top shape, actually able to take on a good square meal without any ill after effects—thanks to Moyer's Tablets. As I understand it, your remedy is simply Nature imprisoned—which, distributed in the proper internal channel, supplies that element which is lacking and which is no more than the inhalation of oxygen to a person shut in a vacuum who must breathe to live.

LOUIS W. GREENMAN,
255-7 Fifth Ave., New York.

"In Tasteless MOYER'S Tablets—easy, inexpensive, pleasant to take"

Auto-intoxication, constipation, stomach gas, dull thinking, depressed mood, down feeling, lack of "pep," restlessness, indigestion, headache, "nerves," bad complexion, etc.—modern science has discovered in Acidophilus, Nature's quick DRUGLESS, lasting way to end the cause (intestinal poisoning).

A non-habit forming, wholly natural method. Widely used and approved by leading doctors. To countless men and women it has brought lasting health, youth and vigor of mind and body.

You, too, are urged to try Acidophilus. Now the cost is slight, the results guarantee. Forms No Habits—Results Lasting. Acidophilus forms no habits because it does more than to temporarily free the system from poisons and gas. Acidophilus is Nature's own drugless way to fight and lastingly conquer the basic trouble.

Acidophilus stocked your intestines in childhood with Acidophilus—its protective organisms intended to keep your bowels healthy, active and safe by sloping excess decay of the wastes.

Acidophilus destroys and also restrains bad germs from their poison and gas creating mischief. Modern living, however, greatly reduces your Acidophilus supply. Restock Your Intestines With Their Natural Acidophilus. When your natural supply of Acidophilus is restored (usually in 1 to 4 weeks) the evil germs are overpowered. The poisons, gas and ill effects of intestinal poisoning vanish—no stay. You feel and look young again. Having conquered the basic cause by natural means, you become "100% fit" fact! All Druggists have Moyer's Tablets. Mail orders, with cash, $1.10 per bottle of 50 tablets, postpaid. Five bottle guaranteed treatment, $5. Literature mailed free. JUSTICE STONE IN THE PEORIA CONVENTION.

Apparently the renomination of Justice Stone at the convention of the Fifth district today in Peoria will depend upon the recognition and seating of the regular Peoria county delegates. Henry county in its convention Saturday did not instruct its delegates, but they are for Scholes, the Small candidate, used to punish the sitting justice for his part in the decision holding the governor responsible for the public funds he took.

Justice Stone, with the Peoria delegates seated, has fifty-nine votes instructed for him. That is a majority and will nominate. The Small contingent in the Peoria county convention bolted to prepare for a contest in the district convention.

When Stone lost Henry county this contest was given a possibility of success. The district convention may throw out the regularly elected Stone delegates, seat Small's delegation from the bolters and thus defeat for the nomination the justice whose present uncertainty arises from his decision in the notorious case against the governor.

Mr. Small's friends, his appointees and the state judges in the administration organization have arranged that he may pay back the money loaned to the state treasury without financial embarrassment to himself when he must, even if the final accounting shows the amount to be $1,000,000, but what these contributors cannot do is to remove the moral effect of that Supreme court decision.

Mr. Small may be able to punish the judges personally by taking them as they come up for renomination and his first attempt at such retaliation will be decided in the Peoria district. The methods used are familiar to the state. Evidence to Small means jobs and roads. The Peoria Transcript has reduced the issue to three words: "Stone or concrete." Some of the counties have sacrificed some of their self-respect to get the concrete, deserting a judge who but for his decision against Small would have had no opposition.

It is possible that the people who have yielded to their fears that they would be left in the mud if they supported the judge and could have concrete roads if they turned him over for punishment do not realize the gravity of their mistake. They are subjecting their Supreme court to third degree practices intended to influence justice. The preliminaries are over but now Peoria's delegates for Stone may be put in the concrete mixer and come out as Scholes delegates. There seems to be no doubt of the regularity and sufficiency of the instructions for Stone. A minority bolted. The majority remained and conducted the business of the county convention. Whatever are the facts they are easily ascertainable. The present committee men who constituted the convention are available for a poll. The district convention can assure itself who remained in the convention and who bolted. The nominating convention can find out where the majority was and what it voted.

Already high political crimes have been committed in the district to pull a judge from the bench by methods and for reasons which would discredit a politician who retained the possibility of being further disgraced. The one remaining shame would be to obtain the revenge by a stolen nomination, by kicking out delegates legally instructed for Stone and thus giving his head to the governor who wants it.

The delegates to the nominating convention may not care to make that record for themselves even under pressure.

LOADED DICE AT MUSCLE SHOALS.

Congress adjourned without deciding what is to be done with the Muscle Shoals power. Senator Norris and other congressmen with socialist leanings want the properties to continue under government operation. They say that is the only way in which the nation can get the full return for the millions it has spent in building the dam and installing the steam and water generators. If the properties are transferred to private hands the value to the nation will be minimized, in the view of these congressmen. What they are hoping for is a chance to prove the soundness of state socialism to a nation temperamentally reluctant to try it out.

We are tempted to remain silent at this point and let them have their experiment. It would still even more quickly than other experiments along the same line have failed, for this time the government ownership advocates are backing more than the obstacles to success usual in such enterprises. They will have to discover a cure for political interference and incompetence in industrial management, a feat in itself, and in addition they will have to start in business with a heritage of political incompetence as a liability. The cards are stacked against them. The government might be able to run Mr. Insull's properties successfully for a time, because they have been designed to serve a definite and existing demand for power. No such demand exists, or ever has existed in the vicinity of Muscle Shoals.

Muscle Shoals was not developed because it was well suited to become a hydro-electric plant, as many congressmen seem to think, but because pork barrel politics took advantage of the war situation and took the treasury to spend a lot of money in northeastern Alabama. Since then federal taxes have been poured into the project without too much regard for the relationship between the cost of the development and the amount of power to be generated. There has been still less regard for the market for power around Muscle Shoals and for the existing competition. The power companies which are equipped to distribute current efficiently can afford to take over the government plants at a price, but it is difficult to see how the government can hope to operate them except at a heavy loss.

If private enterprise were anxious to find a theater in which to prove the folly of government ownership, none more suitable than Muscle Shoals could be discovered. All of which is a significant commentary on the mental acumen of the socialist senators who are shouting for government operation.

IS A VOTE WORTH HAVING?

It is hoped a quarter of a million citizens of Chicago not yet registered will place themselves today in a position to help elect the next mayor of the city. If any power sought to take the right to vote away from these citizens they would be fighting mad and fighting, too, perhaps. But since no one has taken the right away or tried to, since in fact they are being exhorted to use it, they have been willing to let it be.

There is a lot of human nature in that, of course. There are all sorts of reasons, some good and some bad, for shirking the vote. Illness and absence and special circumstances of a costly sort sometimes make voting impossible or disproportionately costly to an individual. But the mass of shirkers have no respectable excuse.

In this campaign there is even less excuse than usual. Every man or woman of normal mentality can decide whether he wants Mr. Dever or Mr. Thompson or Dr. Robertson to be mayor. All three have had public careers by which they may be judged, and the voter who shirks a decision is unworthy to have the franchise.

Voting is a responsibility, a duty, not merely a privilege or right, and the citizen who will not take the trouble to think what sort of a mayor the city needs and which of the candidates is the man who will best serve, does not deserve the vote or any of the privileges of citizenship in a self governing and civilized community.

THE SCANDAL OF TARDY JUSTICE.

We recently have had several learned discussions by experts on crime, criminal law, parole and probation, judicial procedure, and what not. Doubtless something was gained by them, though we don't know what it was. But it seems to us that the situation presented by the Joliet jail delivery and murder might suggest some concrete conclusions upon which something better than talk can be predicted.

The fact that to the layman stands out in conspicuous relief is that our processes of legal justice have permitted dangerous brutes proved guilty of murder to live for months at the state's expense, a constant source of danger to the law abiding, and this indulgence has not only cost another life but justice has been mocked and cheated of the influence upon public morale.

If there is a truism upon which all intelligent men agree it is that justice to be effective must be expeditious. Yet we tolerate a system of procedure which makes promptness impossible, a system that seems elaborately and deliberately designed to prevent expeditious justice and to provide unlimited means of escape for the most unscrupulous and the most desperate. The men who escaped the Joliet jail the other day were guilty beyond any doubt. They should have paid the penalty long ago. But they were able to postpone it and play havoc in the time they borrowed from the feeble leniency of the law.

This story is a humiliation and a disgrace. If the legal profession cannot point the way to a correction of such flagrant weaknesses in our protection from crime, and if it will not use its influence to bring about appropriate action without further procrastination it cannot expect public respect and the lay public will have to act on its own initiative. The legal profession is primarily responsible for the efficiency of law and procedure, and the weaknesses of public justice, so notorious in this country, challenge the honor of the profession. Other countries, even other states of this republic, have efficient procedure. Why does Illinois lag so far behind?

Editorial of the Day

BALLOT FARCE IN ILLINOIS.

(Illinois State Register.)

Every possible pressure should be brought to bear by every agency for good government in Illinois upon the present Illinois general assembly to simplify the ballot in this state.

Many of our elections are little else than a farce. Every politician, every official and every voter knows that a long ballot such as is voted in the presidential or general election in this state is a farce and fraud. Physically the ballot does not fit the voting booth. It is difficult to mark and it presents a multiplicity of tickets and a directory of names confusing to the individual and reducing to an absurd minimum the number of voters who actually cast their ballots as they conscientiously desire.

There is no plausible reason under the sun why the names of presidential electors should clutter up the ballot to the confusion of the voters. It is only a screen behind which certain groups operate who are governed by partisan prejudice. One of the two major parties has a vast normal majority vote in this state. The leaders of that party, governed by prejudice, are disinclined to clarify the situation and deal fairly with the voters on this principle because they know that through confusion of the voters and suppression of an intelligent expression of public opinion at the polls this one party has an advantage over another.

Names of numerous candidates for minor electoral offices which should be appointed are also permitted to clutter up the ballot.

The presidential ticket with its long and unnecessary list of presidential electors forms a camouflage for the state ticket. Many of the supporters of the candidate for governor of the majority party do not hesitate to say that they expect the normal voting strength of the presidential candidate of that party to carry with it into office the candidate for governor and others who trail along behind him on the state ticket.

EPILEPTIC AIDED BY PROPER DIET.

EVIDENCE continues to pile up to prove that the condition of the epileptic can be greatly improved by dieting him. The earlier efforts lay rather along the line of so-called starvation diets. It was discovered a long time ago that the epileptic was at his worst when he was allowed to become fat, lazy, physically inactive, and constipated. If he overate and went without regular bowel movements he was almost certain to get into trouble. If he took a laxative and went without food for a few days he was at his best.

That observation led to light, or semi-starvation diet, with periodic no-food periods of a few days' duration. The next step was based on the observation that persons with acidosis were temporarily free from epileptic attacks. This led to a diet composed largely of fats and sugar. Such a diet can be made very sustaining, much more so than a hunger diet in which starvation periods were interspersed.

This kind of acid-producing diet has been extensively tried in children who are prone to have repeated attacks of spasms. It appeared to work very well.

A recent report by Dr. Talbot and his associates continues the good news. The diet goes by the name of the Ketogenic diet. They used a diet which contains plenty of fat and which is poor in starches and sugars.

It is enough to support energy, vitality and growth; enough protein to supply building material; enough minerals and enough vitamins; enough bran to keep the bowels regular. They call it the 3 to 1 diet, meaning that in three times as much Ketogenic material as there is anti-Ketogenic material. They aim to keep the tissues rather well saturated with acetone.

Tests for acetone in the blood, urine, saliva and breath are possible. In fact, the odor of acetone can be noted on the breath of a person on the diet.

breath and the Scott Wilson tests confirm the smelling test.

Since cutting down on cereals is a part of the treatment, it was suggested that the improvement was merely due to decrease in the blood sugar. When insulin was given to cases in which there was no change in diet, there was no stoppage of the spasms, proving that the effect of the diet was due more to the increase in fats than it was to decrease in cereals.

The children were required to have a rest period during each day. Drinking an abundance of water was another requirement.

I do not think any mother who has had no training in dieting for disease could carry out this treatment. But physicians and dietitians could work out diet lists and train the mothers how to make use of them in a course of four to six demonstrations.

I do not know whether this high-fat, low-carbohydrate treatment for epilepsy has been extensively tried out in epileptic colonies for adults. Nor do I know how extensively it has been used on epileptic adults in their own homes. As a rule, a high degree of acidosis is safer for an adult than it is for a child. I can see no reason why the diet should not be used with adults in institutions and elsewhere.

FEEDING BABY MILK POWDER.

Mrs. W. C. writes: When feeding a baby milk powder, how much should you give a four month old baby?

REPLY: Use one-eighth of the amount that you would use for making a mixture with liquid milk. If you should use eight ounces of liquid milk, if liquid milk were being fed, use one ounce of dry milk.

European Looms Reproduce the World's Most Famous Rug

"I have no refuge in the world other than thy threshold. There is no place of protection for my head other than this door. The work of the slave of the threshold, Maqsd of Kashan, in the year 946." . . . This is the inscription woven in the world famous Ardebil Rug which now hangs in the South Kensington Museum, London. It has more than thirty million hand-tied knots, and represents thirty-two years' labor on the part of its maker.

The original rug is beyond price, but modern ingenuity has reproduced the glowing colors and intricate tracery of the design in this masterpiece in a seamless fabric from Europe. . . . This famous Ardebil pattern is only one of a large collection of beautiful seamless rugs which we have just received, and are now showing in all sizes, from small mats to room size rugs, 11.6x16.4 feet.

A Woman Reporter to Whom the CHICAGO GUNMEN Talk Frankly

Patricia Dougherty, of the Chicago Herald-Examiner, takes you behind the scenes in an astonishing situation—a war among bootleggers in which machine guns have been used and 102 lives sacrificed. She has seen men sprawling on the steps of a Cathedral, dying of machine-gun bullets. She has heard certain gang leaders declare new wars and she has delivered pleas for peace from others. She has seen the police of a city of three million people made powerless by the gangs.

And the "men behind" have discussed their business and their battles with her as frankly as your green-grocer would discuss the day's produce with you.

Her account, in April Cosmopolitan, is a comment on Today which every person interested in Today should read.

With the COOLIDGES in the White House by their Former Housekeeper

President Coolidge takes a nap every afternoon. He smokes cigars. He is a light eater. He rarely talks, or smiles. He seldom goes to the theater. He plays no games. He never touches liquor. He has more clothes than any President in the past five administrations has had. Mrs. Coolidge is warm, friendly. She lets nothing interfere with her happiness. These are observations by Elizabeth Jaffray made during the last of her

17 years as housekeeper of The White House. "Altogether," she says, "these two are, to my way of thinking, the strangest couple that have ever occupied the White House."

As a historical document of Today, nothing has equaled these memoirs of Mrs. Jaffray. They are devoid of sensation, but packed with importance for the person interested in the affairs of his nation.

First, because Cosmopolitan readers demand quality and willingly pay for it. Glance at the opposite page and note the quality of material they demand in their favorite magazine. Then remember that to obtain this magazine they pay approximately a half million dollars a month and you will realize the truth of the above assertion.

Second, because Cosmopolitan readers live where your merchandise is on sale—where it is possible for them to respond to your advertising.

There are only 657 places in the United States where it is of primary importance that your goods be on sale. These places, together with the 2,130 urban places tributary to them, constitute eighty percent of the national market.

And Cosmopolitan covers this eighty percent thoroughly, for ninety percent of its circulation is located in this area.

To sum up—Cosmopolitan automatically selects for its audience people with money to spend and an active desire for the best the market affords. Further, it selects these people only in the larger communities—in the commercially important key spots, thereby assuring to its advertisers maximum advertising pressure where the advertisers' goods are on sale. More than this an advertising medium cannot do.

Cosmopolitan would like to help you with your marketing problem. Probably we can save you a good deal of money—possibly we can give you a new slant on the entire problem of marketing. If you would like to have us try, write or phone our nearest office.

Check Your Actual Sales Against Sales Possibilities

Business does not spread uniformly over the map.

70% of the total is concentrated in less than 1% of the area—in 657 Principal Trading Centers.

These Trading Centers represent the primary market, particularly for quality merchandise.

There are 2,130 other urban places—cities and towns of over 2,500 population—where an additional 10% of the nation's business is done.

These places represent a secondary market.

The remaining 20% of business is spread thinly over 200,000 other small towns, villages and hamlets—clearly a market of minor importance for most nationally advertised merchandise.

Cosmopolitan's Merchandising Atlas will show you, state by state, the name and location of every Trading Center and Urban Place, the number of literate native white families in each, together with an indication of the percent of the total state's business which should come from each Trading Area.

Every sales manager will find this a valuable reference book for the building of sales quotas.

Cosmopolitan representatives are equipped to assist sales managers in making practical use of it—

And to give definite, detailed suggestions for a complete analysis of your sales status in any representative state you may choose.

SMALL-STONE JUDICIARY FIGHT IN FINAL ROUND

Peoria Convention Picks
Candidate Today.

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Peoria, Ill., March 14.—(Special.)—Here for the opening of an American Legion convention membership drive, Attorney General Oscar E. Carstrom also has his eye on the Fifth Supreme court district convention to be held tomorrow.

While he declined to discuss his position in the matter, it became known that he had made a request upon State Treasurer Garrett Kinney, chairman of the Peoria county Republican committee, which has deep significance. He asked for a transcript, a stenographer's record, of both the Peoria county convention, held on Feb. 16, and of tomorrow's district convention.

Drive On for Affidavits.

This, it is said, can mean only one thing. The Small forces, acting under orders from the governor to prevent the renomination of Clyde E. Stone, one of the majority of the state's highest court who signed the $1,000,000 interest defense against the governor, are turning heaven and earth to obtain affidavits from precinct committeemen saying that they bolted the county convention which endorsed Stone and participated in the rump session which named delegates for Scholes.

Committeemen who have been approached say that the Small agents soliciting their signatures wave aside all question of the veracity of the affidavits sought, and that the agents say in plain terms they don't care whether a man walked out of the regular convention or not, so long as he is willing to sign an affidavit that he did so.

NEW YORK SUIT FOR THE IRISH REPUBLIC'S $2,500,000 IS OPENED

New York, March 14.—(Special.)—The Irish free state's suit for an accounting and judgment on the title to the $2,500,000 balance of the $4,000,000 subscribed in this country to the bond issue of the self-styled and now defunct Irish republic opened today before Supreme Court Justice Curtis A. Peters like the first chapter of an exhaustive review of Ireland's fight for political independence.

The battles, political and physical, of the Sinn Fein, the Irish republic, the Dail Eireann were retold by their attorneys, and also in testimony given at the trial in 1924 by Hugh Kennedy, attorney general for the free state government, which was read to Justice Peters.

The free state claims ownership of the $2,500,000 now on deposit in the Guaranty Safe Deposit company and the Hartman National bank, as successor to the Irish republic. Eamon De Valera, president of the defunct republic, and Stephen G. O'Mara, as trustees of the fund collected here, deny the claims of the free state. The bondholders seek to have the money restored to them individually.

Carstrom is Noncommittal.
"I have nothing to say," said the attorney general when asked about his request upon Chairman Kinney. "Where I stand upon this question will be shown by action more plainly than by any words that I might use in advance. If it is necessary, I shall act."

That is the situation in its most dramatic aspect on the eve of the meeting of delegates from ten counties at the Pere Marquette hotel tomorrow afternoon.
Peoria county tonight is the scene of a battle for affidavits concerning the convention of Feb. 16. Newspaper men and others verify the official record that the Small forces led only a minority in their bolt and that a majority of the county committee remained in the convention hall and voted for the Kinney slate of 25 delegates and for instructing them for Justice Stone.

Stone Followers Confident.
In spite of this, the Small workers are urging every means at the disposal of the powerful and wealthy state machine to make a showing that a majority walked out of the convention—something unknown in political history.

The defenders of Justice Stone against the assault upon him are confident tonight that, on a fair test of strength, he will win easily. Including Peoria county, there have been fifty-nine delegates—a large majority of the district convention—instructed for him. The only chance the Small forces have is to unseat the regular delegates from this county.

For that reason alone Peorians are somewhat worried over the situation tonight. They fear that the state machine will throw its henchmen into the convention in such numbers that there may be disorder and violence. They are prepared to go ahead according to strict parliamentary procedure, but they suspect that the Small lieutenants will give the signal for a riot or anything else that they think will win the day for them.

May Be Up to Carstrom.
In such an event, which probably would wind up with two nominations the decision would be up to Secretary of State L. L. Emmerson, to whom the certifications would be made. It then would be his job to determine which nomination was the legal one and in such a juncture he would refer the question to Attorney General Carstrom. That is understood to be one of the reasons that the attorney general is fortifying himself with the complete evidence shown by the record.

An inquiry into the proceedings of the rump convention has developed another amusing angle of their failure to make a record which would stand scrutiny.

This was the fact that the rumpers failed even to select a secretary. A Peoria newspaper reporter, looking for news, apparently was deputized for the job. As Harry Pratt, former partner of Speaker Robert Scholes, who, by the way, is Small's choice in his effort to defeat Justice Stone, read off the names of men he proposed as "delegates" they were recorded by the newspaper man.

Therefore, instead of having credentials signed by the chairman and secretary of the county committee, which ordinarily are the ticket of admission to a district convention, the Scholes contingent cannot produce anything except a statement from C. W. Archdale, who more or less presided at the rump session, that they were elected by the county committee.

It is because of this that the regular delegates are willing to submit their case to the convention on its merits, if there is a chance to do so.

What they fear is that strong arm politics will be played. In such an event they, a majority of the regularly elected delegates, will proceed to nominate Justice Stone and certify his name to Secretary of State Emmerson.

HOW THEY GROW HAIR ON THOSE THIN SPOTS

New method rejuvenates dormant hair roots

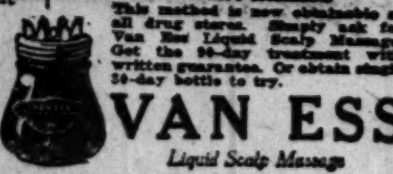

Proves 97% of falling hair and baldness largely unnecessary—new head of hair now in 90 days

MODERN scientific research has recently disproved many favored, old theories on hair growing. That new hair can actually be grown almost 70% of the time is the astonishing pronouncement today of numerous men of science.

Thoroughly new and revolutionary discoveries have been made. A method discovered which does what old-day science considered largely impossible. This method was tried out, during the last three years, in something over 200,000 cases, and records of results carefully kept. 70 times in 100, according to those records, results were successful.

Results guaranteed in writing. It is called the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. You use it at home—a few quick rubs over the scalp night or morning—that is all. It is different from any other home method known. It is protected by U. S. patents. It does what no other method does or has ever done.

STATE DEMANDS CROARKIN HANG; CALLED POSER

Savage Makes Final Plea;
Says Killer Is Sane.

(Picture on back page.)
Harold Croarkin was schooled, after he came to trial, to mimic a maniac, said Joseph P. Savage yesterday before the jury in Chief Justice William J. Lindsay's court.
"He is legally sane," added Savage. "He has not a normal mind—his mind is perverted. He knows that he is killing a man, and he knows that he is sinning when he kills."
"He had the mental power to resist the deed."
"He killed Walter Schmitt cravenly and deliberately because he feared the consequences of his act of abuse upon the boy."
"He should hang for it."

Makes State's Closing Plea.
Such was the argument of Savage, with all the evidence in the case presented, he took up the state's plea for a verdict finding the ever silent Croarkin guilty of the murder last December of 6-year-old Walter Schmitt Jr. in the loft of a West Devon avenue riding club stable.
When that urge for the death penalty was made, it seemed to onlookers at the trial that Croarkin would be saved from his constant attitude—or pose, as the state expressed his demeanor.

For Croarkin, whether through genuineness or through shrewd faking, was easily agitated. All through the trial he sat in one of two poses, either with his head slouched down between his shoulders, or with a resting upon his crooked arm.
Croarkin hides his face.
Yesterday his fingers twined through his hair at the opening of the afternoon session, and when they came away his hair came tousling down before his eyes, and there it stayed. Twice during Mr. Savage's hours of denunciation of Croarkin and his crime the defendant let his head fall on his arm, lying flat upon the table, his face hidden.

Then came the prosecutor's plea—it was a shout, almost—for a verdict finding death as Croarkin's fate.
"This is murder, gentlemen, and you have sworn not to be moved by sympathy. Think only of this boy of six, an innocent, fine, little chap, and the way his life was snuffed off in this foul manner. You'll find no mitigation. The defendant is responsible for what he did. The law gives you the penalty. It is death! Upon your solemn oath you promised to invoke the law. We ask the supreme penalty."

Defendant Nearly Speaks.
Croarkin's head came up. His fingers twitched and his lips seemed on the verge of speech. He drew his hands together. Some of those sitting near noticed him at once, and they said afterward they thought surely he would do or say something. Then he seemed to recall himself and slouched down again to his old position.
Twice during the argument he seemed to be asleep. It was while Mr. Savage was discussing, item by item, the testimony of the defense and state witnesses. The prosecutor dwelt long on the portions of the defense which built up the foundation of the insanity plea—the stories of peculiarities in Croarkin's conduct.
"None of these strange things was described by the associates of Croarkin, who testified for the state, concerning the various incidents of the crime," Savage said. "We produced many who knew him intimately. They said nothing about his 'dancing step' when he walked; about his staring into space; about his saying 'Nice day' in greeting; whether it was a pleasant day or not."

"Why weren't these witnesses asked by the defense about those things? It was because they would have told the opposite story. They would have seen none of the things which were described by the interested witnesses who told of them."
"His mother and father and sisters told of these, but I do not criticize them. It's just what you men would do. Isn't it the natural thing for them to try to save their boy—their Hal—by any means at all? That is why we didn't cross-examine them at all."

Acts Prove Him Sane.
"The actions of Croarkin after he committed the crime prove him sane if there was no other evidence in the case."
"Why did he avoid apprehension for two days if he had no mind to know if he did wrong?"
"Some hours after his act he went into the rectory of a priest's house to unburden his overloaded conscience. An insane man has no conscience, has he? And was it not a shrewd thing for Croarkin to lay bare his sin to a priest?"

Then came the prosecutor's plea—it was a shout, almost—for a verdict finding death as Croarkin's fate.

AMERICA-TURKEY REACH AGREEMENT TO REVIVE AMITY

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
Washington, D. C., March 14.—(Special.)—Resumption of diplomatic and consular relations between the United States and Turkey is provided in the terms of an agreement announced tonight.

Undersecretary of State Joseph C. Grew is understood to be slated for appointment by President Coolidge as the American ambassador to Turkey.
The state department made public the text of notes in which Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol, American high commissioner at Constantinople, arranged the terms of the agreement with Tewfik Ruzhdi Bey, Turkish minister of foreign affairs.
The notes were dated Feb. 17, three days before the modus vivendi set up in 1924 for the most favored nation treatment in customs matters, was due to expire. The provisions are continued under the new agreement.

The First Principle of Oil Burning

The making of a fire by the Hardinge Fuel Oil Burner is the sound, scientific application of a mechanical oil burner.
By means of a highly developed fuel control, oil is fed to the atomizer shown above in regular quantities. Air is introduced in a manner that gives correct control of the fuel, which burns without carbon. This is made possible by exclusive patented Hardinge features.

The result is a powerful, clean flame which evenly distributes at the grate level of the boiler (the point where heat is most quickly absorbed) the maximum, or 98%, of the heat contents of the fuel.
Investigate—let us show you how the scientific, efficient Hardinge flame can be economically applied to your boiler. Send for free booklet, "The Plain Truth About Oil Burners."

You don't know oil burners until you have seen the Hardinge. We fully guarantee the Hardinge Fuel Oil Burner.

DOCTORS PREPARE BILL TO CURB ALIENIST FIGHTS

Want 3, Court Selected, to Make Reports.

The Illinois State Medical society's bill to regulate testimony of alienists in the criminal courts will be introduced this week in the house at Springfield. This was announced yesterday as the society's executive committee met in the Congress hotel and arranged for an annual convention May 31 and June 1 and 2 in Moline, Ill.
The proposed law, to be presented by Representative E. A. W. Johnson of Chicago, provides that three alienists, court appointed, would make separate examinations of the defendant and report separately. This would avoid clashes, such as those in the Croarkin and other trials where state and defense each calls alienists. The court would appoint, from a list indorsed by the medical society, one to be recommended by the state, one by the defense and one by the judge alone. Their fees would be fixed and paid by the county board.

Take Rap at Alienists.
"From the consistency with which certain alienists diagnose defendants as sane while others as persistently insane, it appears that some doctors are being influenced by the fees paid for their testimony," Dr. J. C. Kraft, of 2755 North avenue, said. He is chairman of the medical society's committee which has been working on the bill for the last year. He added that his committee has consulted with the state bar association and leading alienists and gained their support. He predicted that the bill, sponsored by the medical society, will be given preference over other proposed legislation regarding use of experts in criminal trials.

Some Sell Moonshine.
Dispensing of liquor again came before the doctors at the committee meeting. Dr. Harold M. Camp, of Monmouth, Ill., secretary of the society, said a new complaint in that regard, was that some druggists were using moonshine to fill legitimate prescriptions. He added that reports of doctors bootlegging were exaggerated.

Increase Your Weight 5 Pounds in 30 Days or Money Back

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitamins that make flesh, create appetite, build up the power to resist disease and put good solid flesh on skinny men and women.

But it's repulsive in taste and smell and nearly every stomach rebels against it. So now men and women who keep up with the times are taking McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets—rich in flesh-producing, health building, strength creating vitamins and as easy to take as candy. Try them for 30 days if you want to fill out those scrawny hollows in chest, cheeks and neck and gain strength and vigor. And bear this in mind, if they don't help you in that time, your druggist anywhere will return your money. But demand McCoy's—60 tablets 60 cents.

FLOWER LOVERS PRAISE TRIBUNE GARDEN CONTEST

Club Workers Aid Plan for Beauty Spots.

BY FRANK RIDGWAY.

THE TRIBUNE'S $5,000 flower garden contest is called by garden club workers the greatest city and suburban beautification movement that has been launched in many years. Immediate response came from garden clubs and gardening enthusiasts in all parts of the city and suburbs.

Clubs and business concerns already are mapping out ways of encouraging their members and employees to enter the contest for the sake of transforming their neighborhoods into beauty spots as well as having a chance to win cash prizes.

Club workers see the grand prize of $1,000 as a worthwhile goal for the gardener to work for during the season.

Two Cars Start Flying.
Telephone calls and letters coming to The Tribune clearly indicate that the contest has already started flying in the back yards of hundreds of prospective contestants.

Within two hours Mrs. Frederick Fisher, whose name was mentioned in connection with the announcement of the contest, received thirty-five telephone calls at her Lake Bluff home. "Two factory owners called me saying that they intended to give flower seeds to their employees to encourage them to plan a flower garden this season and enter THE TRIBUNE contest," writes Mrs. Fisher. "I feel that the contest will go over big."

Mrs. John Hunt Jr. of the Evanston Garden club said: "The Tribune has started a great movement. The contest is an effective city beautification scheme. I have talked to several of our garden club members and they already see wonderful possibilities in the plan."

Calls Contest Worth While.
"A contest like that is worth while," said Mrs. John H. Heald Jr. of the Oak Park and Riverside Garden club. "It is a fine thing for our suburbs. We needed such a contest."

Many garden club members in the west suburbs are planning to enter the contest. Miss Amy Rothchild of the North Shore Garden club said yesterday that the contest was just the thing needed to keep the interest in flowers alive following the successful flower and garden show just closed. "The Tribune's contest is educational. The competitive element is stimulating. Such a contest has a reformatory element in it," she added.

Prizes to Beverly Hills.
Mrs. R. F. Butcher of the Beverly Hills Woman's club said: "The Tribune has started a movement that will

KILLS HIMSELF ON DAY HE WAS TO OPEN STORE

Stanley Matek, 38, had been out of work for six months. He had himself, his wife, Antoinette, and their 8-year old daughter, Emily, to support in their tiny cottage at 878 North Hermitage avenue. At last he gathered all his savings and made a payment on a small candy store at 1155 Noble street. He and his wife spent Sunday scrubbing the floors, washing the windows and getting the wares ready. The store was to re-open.

But early yesterday morning Mrs. Matek, who had been out to buy food, found her husband dead across his bed, and two men were open. In the same room lay Emily, almost dead. The pulmotor squad from the West Chicago avenue police station saved the child's life and took her to St. Mary's hospital for treatment.

"I guess my man killed himself," the widow explained. "I guess he tried to take Emily with him to make things easier for me."

NEW YORK TRIES FOUR LANE PLAN ON ITS BRIDGES

Three-quarter Idea for Rush Hours.

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—After exhaustive studies of the ever growing motor traffic across the bridges connecting Manhattan with Brooklyn and with the borough of Queens, plans have been worked out for speeding it up by a system of reversible lanes of traffic.

Deputy Police Commissioner Phil D. Hoyt, with the aid of traffic experts, including engineers of the regional planning committee, prepared a schedule of hours when the major part of the traffic can move in only one direction.

On Manhattan bridge, which connects Manhattan and Brooklyn at Canal street in lower New York, all traffic on the upper roadway, which affords two lanes, moves toward New York until noon. On the middle roadway the usual two-way traffic is continued, thus affording three lanes of cars in the direction of Manhattan to one in the opposite direction.

Fifty-Fifty From Noon to 4.
From noon until 4 p. m. the lanes are evenly divided, two lines of cars moving in each direction. Then, at 4 o'clock, when the great outward movement commences, the morning program is reversed and three lanes are moved toward Brooklyn, leaving only one line open toward the city.

To further expedite traffic, trucks are restricted to the lower roadway and made to remain in line. Pleasure cars thus can race speedily over the upper roadway and overflow to the lower road where the rules permit them to turn out and pass the trucks.

A similar system of reversible lanes of traffic operates on the Queensboro bridge, which, however, has only a single wide roadway. It is wide enough for five lanes, which permits three lanes abreast in the direction of Manhattan in the forenoon, and two lanes outboard, with the order reversed in the late afternoon.

Traffic experts agree that pending the building of additional bridges or vehicular tunnels the reversible traffic lanes offer the only solution of this pressing problem.

Experts are now making studies of one way street rules from north and south thoroughfares similar to those already operative for east and west streets.

CHICAGO SOON TO TRY IT.
Chicago soon is to try a four lane traffic system on Michigan avenue from Oak street on the north to the boulevard link bridge. In certain morning hours three of those traffic lanes will be used for south bound vehicles, and during certain evening hours three lanes will be devoted to north bound traffic. If this succeeds street alterations are likely by which there will be three lanes, used in the same succession.

USE MELLOWS ITS CHARM

As with other artistic creations, use mellows but never dulls the charm of a Pierce-Arrow. And this is so because, in the building of the Pierce-Arrow, craftsmen devoted to their labors are keeping alive the arts and integrities of hand-building.

The thing that sets Pierce-Arrow apart, that stamps it with distinction, that crowns it with greatness, is this undeviating pursuit of perfection that marks the artist. This means, in motor cars as in lamps, the difference between mediocrity and superlative merit—the difference between passing fancy and lasting charm.

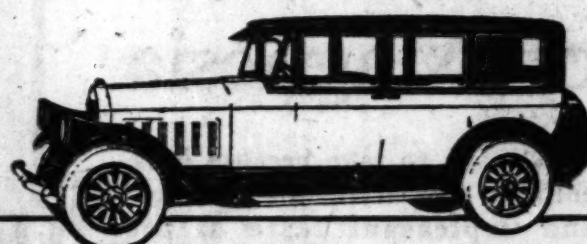

To be known and respected as "the hand-built motor car" has been at once the ambition and the continuous realization of Pierce-Arrow.

Hand-building does not make the Pierce-Arrow a high-priced car. The Series 16 two-door coach at $2895 is an example. Easily maneuvered! 130-inch wheelbase. Operating economy usually equalling and often surpassing that of cars costing less. Pierce-Arrow nitrocellulose lacquer finish in 16 charming color choices without extra payment. ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

JAIL PROTECTS WIFE SOCKER, AND HE'S GLAD

Mr. Rolevics Pleads to Enter a Cell.

Sergt. William Reed was poring over the books in the South Chicago police station last night, balancing the good against the evil and nourishing himself with the thought that spring is here, tra la, when the door opened up to see who had dumped a load of old iron on the parlor floor. There, before him, sat in hand and mildly apprehensive, stood one Anthony Rolevics.

"I am sorry," said Mr. Rolevics. "Never mind," said the sergeant. "It's an old door."

"I didn't mean the door," said Mr. Rolevics. "It's my wife."

He Socked His Wife.

"What's the matter with your wife?"

"I socked her on the jaw," said Mr. Rolevics. "Assuming an attitude of deep dejection appropriate to the penitence of one who socks one's wife on the jaw."

"You ought to be sorry," observed Sergt. Reed. "Are the neighbors after you? Maybe you've got a nice coat of tar and feathers coming."

Mr. Rolevics shivered. "I was wondering, maybe," he said, haltingly, "if you would arrest me and put me in jail." And he glanced shrewdly out a window as if he detected in the gloom of the neighboring streets the approach of a clamoring mob.

No Charge Against Him.

"We haven't any charge against you," said the sergeant, turning over thirty-four of the police docket and entering a check mark against the name of a gent man who is wanted for looking a gum machine. His words fell like a chill upon Mr. Rolevics, who darted another nervous glance out of the window.

"But I socked her on the jaw," he reiterated, with a glance all hopeful of consideration. And then perceiving that the sergeant bit his pencil and seemed concerned he hastened on. "I live at 8540 Marquette avenue. I am 38 years old. I am a carpenter. I came home to dinner. There wasn't any dinner. So I socked her on the jaw." The sentences fairly fell over each other in their hurry to register.

"So you want to be locked up?"

"Yes sir. I ought to be arrested." He stole another peep out the window. "Nobody can reach a fellow in jail, can they?"

The sergeant apparently didn't hear. "Come on," he said, and led the way to the basement. He thought he heard a long, comfortable sigh as he turned the key on Mr. Rolevics. He ascended the stairs wagging his head and was about to return to the record of good and evil when the door banged open and shut again. A woman stood before him.

"I am Anna Rolevics," she said. "Have you got my man locked up here?"

The sergeant noted the glint of determination hardly masked by a forced look of gentleness in her eyes. He noted also that she held her right hand behind her in the folds of her gown and wondered if it held a rolling pin or a ball bat.

"Why, yes," said the sergeant. "Mrs. Rolevics sniffed as one deprived of a certain pleasure. 'Well,' said she, as she turned to go, 'you better keep him there. A long time, what I mean.'"

And the door closed with another bang.

GERRY ESTATE TO 4 CHILDREN; VALUE IN DOUBT

New York, March 14.—[Special.]—Two sons and two daughters share equally in the estate of the late Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry, founder of the Gerry society.

It was reported today, on the basis of real estate appraisals, that the Gerry estate would be worth $18,000,000. Harry D. Nims of the law firm of Nims and Dardi said that the property transferred by reason of the death of Commodore Gerry probably would not exceed $8,000,000, and might be slightly less.

No provision was made for charity by the will, which was executed nineteen years ago. The will, it is said, followed the lines of Commodore Gerry's father and grandfather in this respect, the family tradition being that of giving liberally to charity, but passing the estate on intact to the heirs.

Autos Crash; Both Drivers Are Fined

Automobiles driven by William Marsh, 488 Ridge avenue, Evanston, and Stuart Armstrong, 4943 Sheridan road, collided last night at Simpson street and Ridge avenue, Evanston. Marsh swore to a complaint alleging that Armstrong was driving on the wrong side of the street. Armstrong swore to another alleging that it was Marsh who was offside. Magistrate Samuel Harrison heard the evidence and fined both.

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., March 14.—(Special.)—Exclusion of Senator William H. King (Dem., Utah) from Haiti at the instance of President Louis Borno appeared to be regarded by state department officials today as a closed incident.

Secretary of State Kellogg, who was back at his desk, is known to have given the matter some attention, but there was nothing to indicate that the government has any intention of asking for a reconsideration of President Borno's action.

It was denied by state department officials that the American government had in any way encouraged, or consented to the issuance of the order forbidding Senator King to land on Haitian soil. Notwithstanding the fact that Senator King has been a critic of the state department and its policies as of the Haitian president, it was reiterated that a futile effort was made to have the Haitian authorities permit the Utah senator to visit the island.

Haiti Stands Pat.
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti, March 14.—(AP)—President Borno today informed the Associated Press that the decision of the Haitian government to refuse admission to United States Senator King of Utah was irrevocable.

Meanwhile it was learned that orders have been issued to prevent the senator's entry into Haiti if he should attempt to cross the Haitian border from the Dominican republic.

For Nation's Best Interests.
President Borno said that the decision to bar Senator King was inspired by a definite appreciation of the best interests of Haiti as well as by a high sense of his own dignity as chief executive of the republic. The Haitian consul at San Juan, Porto Rico, where Senator King was scheduled to leave today for Santo Domingo, is understood to have informed the senator of the decision of the Haitian government.

Senator King, interviewed at San Juan today, said that he still had the "hope" that he would be able to continue to Haiti, but that he would not make a decision until he reached Santo Domingo as to whether he would proceed to Haiti if President Borno still opposed the visit.

The senator also said that he had notified Brig. Gen. John H. Russell, American high commissioner in Haiti, that he was sailing for Santo Domingo. "He is the power in Haiti," the senator said.

Italy and Japan Oppose U. S. Plan to Curb Makers of Arms

GENEVA, March 14.—(AP)—Desirous of doing everything possible for the preservation of peace and the removal of the causes of war, the United States is prepared to enter an agreement for the publication of statistics on the manufacture of arms, Hugh Gibson, American delegate, today told the opening meeting of a special league of nations commission which will prepare the draft of a convention on the private manufacture of arms.

Mr. Gibson said this agreement to which the United States was prepared to acquiesce would apply equally to statistics on arms of private and governmental manufacture. He added he was convinced it would be another step toward the limitation and reduction of armaments in which the United States had always cooperated with enthusiasm.

Opposed by Italy and Japan.
The American delegate said he hoped the commission would appreciate the constitutional limitations imposed upon the American federal government in any attempt to control the private manufacture of arms.

Italy and Japan announced that they could not accept the idea of publication of statistics concerning governmental manufacture of arms. A subcommittee composed of Count von Bernstorff of Germany, Dr. Guerrero of Salvador, Sig. Marints of Italy, M. Veverka of Czechoslovakia, M. Sato of Japan, Mr. De Brouckere of Belgium, and Mr. Gibson were appointed to reconcile the various conflicting ideas presented at the stand.

Explains Britain's Stand.
BY DAVID DARRAH.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
LONDON, March 14.—Great Britain's willingness to yield the ax on its navy was indicated by the first lord of the admiralty, W. C. Bridgeman, this evening in introducing the naval estimates before the house of commons.

Referring to President Coolidge's invitation to a three-nation naval disarmament conference Mr. Bridgeman declared no evidence existed that the British admiralty was opposed to the limitation of armaments, saying, "the government welcomed the Coolidge invitation, provided the other nations would consider Great Britain's special difficulties, the same as Great Britain will consider theirs."

See Good in Parley.
He expressed hope that the French and Italian governments would still be able to consider attending the conference, but even if this was found impossible, nothing but good could come from the deliberations of the other naval powers. He declared, however, it was a sacred duty of Great Britain to have a naval strength equal to any other power, and reasonable security for guarding the trade communications.

There was no surprise in the estimates presented by Mr. Bridgeman. A total sum of £58,000,000 (about $290,000,000) is to be budgeted, which is £100,000 (about $500,000) less than last year.

FRANCE AGAIN INVITED

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

PARIS, March 14.—Following informal conversations between the state department of the United States and the French government office, Ambassador Myron T. Herrick this afternoon presented Foreign Minister Aristide Briand with a new note signed by Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg concerning the naval limitation conference.

The Washington note says the United States is convinced that no clash will occur between the league of nations conference on disarmament and the naval limitation conference proposed by President Coolidge, so Mr. Kellogg urges that France be represented "in some way" at the parley of the three powers, scheduled to meet at Geneva in June. M. Briand will submit the note to the council of ministers tomorrow.

Qual d'Orsay opinion indicates France will send one or several observers.

FLORIDA BANK ANSWERS RUN WITH COLD CASH

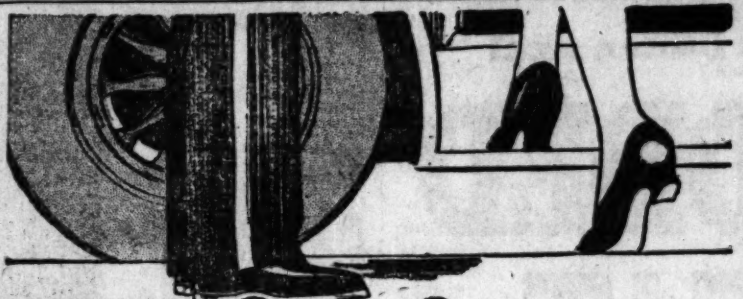

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 14.—(AP)—A quieter tone prevailed in the Palm Beaches tonight following a period of excitement when a run on the Citizens bank prompted by the closing of three banks in Palm Beach county abated, leaving only short lines of depositors at the windows.

Two of the three banks remaining open here did not experience runs.

They observed the regular closing hours. The Citizens bank, however, announcing that plenty of funds had been obtained to pay every depositor, remained open until 6 o'clock to meet all requests.

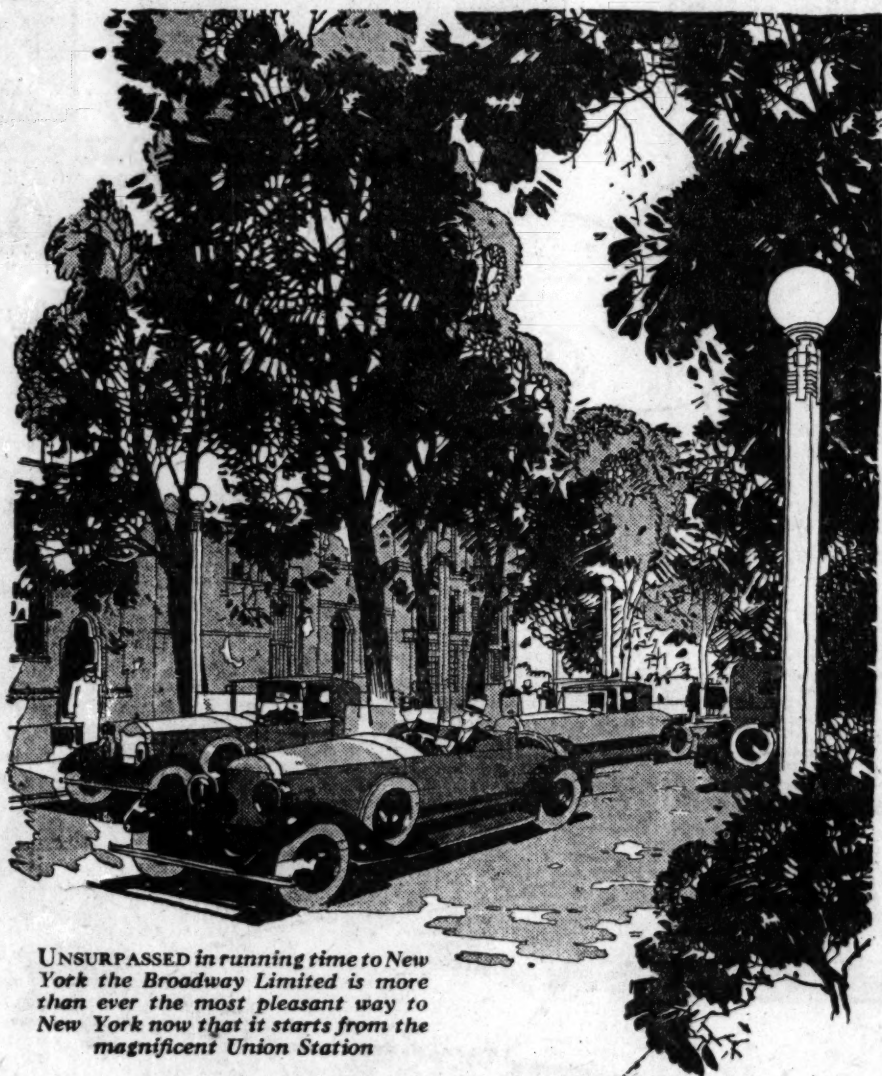

The banks which did not open today included the Farmers Bank and Trust company, one of the largest banking institutions here. The bank was closed temporarily, it was announced, in the interest of the depositors. Plans for reopening the bank within 30 or 60 days were announced.

THE street car is the safest place in the streets.

National statistics show that fewer persons are killed in street cars than in any other public conveyance, in proportion to the total number carried.

The Chicago Surface Lines especially have a remarkable safety record.

Last year, there were 187,000,000 rides—considerably more than the entire population of the United States—to one fatal injury to a Surface Lines passenger.

No other comparable transportation agency can approach this good record made by street cars using the congested streets of a great city.

Careful trainmen, constant watchfulness and vigilant observance of all safety rules constantly safeguard users of Surface Lines service.

When you use the street cars you are safe.

It's "YELLOW MASK" that denies you Teeth Beauty!

IN YOUR saliva is a "liquid cement". Science calls it Calculus. It glues to your teeth—then hardens.

It veils the glistening whiteness of your teeth enamel with a glassy slippery mask. Though glossy to the touch of the tongue, this mask of Calculus is really an absorbent. It drinks in coffee, tobacco and food stains as a blotter absorbs ink. These give this glassy mask its yellowish tint.

Ordinary dentifrices cannot lift this mask. They glide over it like one piece of ice over another.

But dental science now makes it easy to remove.

Foremost dentists use a marvelous substance known as "Tri-Calcium Phosphate" for cleaning teeth. It banishes Calculus as sun does mist. It makes teeth fairly dazzle. Yet it cannot injure the most delicate enamel. Otherwise your dentist wouldn't use it.

Dental science has tried to embody this precious but elusive ingredient in a tasty, pleasant tooth paste so that all might have pearly white teeth all the time. Now it has succeeded—and here is the preparation, ORPHOS Tooth Paste.

Often in one application this magic ORPHOS erases the entire mask. Its powers to beautify will amaze you.

VICTIM OF LOST MEMORY WOODED BY TWO FAMILIES

Professor or Forger? All
Italy Stirred by Case.

BY JOHN CLAYTON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)
(Copyright, 1927, By The Chicago Tribune.)
ROME, March 14.—The strangest case of amnesia or loss of memory in the annals of the Italian police has been baffling psychiatrists and criminologists and amusing the Italian public for the last fortnight. As a result two families, one from Verona and another from Turin, are battling for possession of a man who is unable to give them any clue as to his own identity except that he has a strong predilection for women who claim to be his wife.

More than a year ago the man was arrested in a Turin cemetery in the act of stealing a statuette. When taken to headquarters he had no documents nor could he supply any details concerning himself. He was transferred from prison to the insane asylum at Collegno, near Turin, while the police investigated, without result.

GOES ON SECOND HONEYMOON.
Then his photograph was printed in the illustrated papers, with the result that the wife of Prof. Biullo Canella, formerly of the University of Verona, came forward to claim her long lost husband, whom she believed had been killed during the war in Macedonia. The professor's brother also identified the victim of loss of memory, with the result that the inmate of the asylum was released to go on a second honeymoon with his supposed wife.

Not long afterwards the police of Turin notified the officials of the asylum that a certain Mario Bruneri was wanted for forgery. They enclosed photographs, which bore a strange resemblance to the man who had been released.

After considerable search "Canella" was returned to the asylum for investigation, while members of Bruneri's family came forward to claim that he was their relative. With them they brought police records, including finger prints made by Bertillon experts, which correspond with the inmate's prints. They point out that he speaks with a strong Piedmont dialect which is uncommon in Verona.

CLUE HIS FONDNESS OF MUSIC.
The Canella family is just as certain that he is the long lost professor. They pass over the finger prints as unconvincing and point out that the professor, who is inordinately fond of music, often wept when certain pieces were played in proof that the inmate is their husband and brother. They played one of the professor's favorites and he wept as of yore. They also declared a number of their illustrious family would not have a finger print record with the police.

As for the inmate himself, he has been well treated by Signora Canella and seems inclined to believe himself the missing professor. Meanwhile, all northern Italy is divided into two camps, the Canellas and the Bruneris, and the newspapers are filled with polemics in favor of one another.

LAYS HUSBAND'S SUICIDE TO ILLNESS.
Mrs. Ruth Van Camp, 2628 75th avenue, Milwaukee, told police yesterday that her husband, William Van Camp, who shot and killed himself Sunday night, had been complaining of feeling ill for a month. She said he asked her if his insurance policy was paid up and when she replied in the affirmative he walked into another room and killed himself.

CITY PHYSICIAN SHOOTS MANAGER AND KILLS SELF

Austin, Tex., March 14.—(AP)—Sui-side with an inch and a half penknife that police overlooked late today removed Dr. C. W. Goddard, city physician, from accountability for shooting and seriously wounding City Manager Adam R. Johnson a few hours earlier as the climax of a disagreement over operation of the city health department.

Goddard was found dead in a city jail cell where he was being held pending the outcome of Johnson's wounds. The city manager may recover, physicians said. Police had failed to take Dr. Goddard's small pocketknife. With it he slashed his throat and wrists and bled to death.

Goddard, police said, came to Johnson's office and shot him five times after exchange of only a few words. Other city officials were close at hand when the shooting occurred. City Engineer O. E. Metcalf rushed from an adjoining office and grappled with Goddard, whom Chief of Police Littlepage disarmed.

BY FRENCH LANE.
Willis Sharp Kilmer of New York is the first of widely known eastern turfmen to map out an Illinois racing campaign for this season. He made reservations yesterday for 18 of his horses which will be here for the spring meeting at the Aurora track. Mr. Kilmer, who is master of the famous Sun Briar stud and owner of the one time great race horse and now good sire Sun Briar, is to race both an eastern and western division this year. Most of the horses he will send here have been at the Juana during the winter. They will be shipped east within the next week or ten days and be joined in Chicago by a half dozen other Kilmer color-bearers sent on from New York.

It was Mr. Kilmer and W. R. Coe, another New York turfman, who mated Sun Briar and Cleopatra to get the colt Pompey, which was much in the limelight a year ago as the future book favorite in the Kentucky Derby. How Pompey started as a 1 year old only to fall as a 1 year old is too recent turf history to repeat.

Along with the Kilmer request for reservations at Aurora arrived another almost as important. The Brown Shasta Stock farm stable of California, owned by R. E. (Curly) Brown, made a request for room for twenty horses. The Brown Shasta horses, all of which carry the Shasta and of the firm to their name,

WHEAT IS LOWER ON FREE SELLING; CORN IRREGULAR

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat market was dull and showed easy undertone, with May selling down to $1.35 1/2, a new low on the present movement, and the finish was about the bottom with net losses of 1/4¢. May closed at $1.35 1/2 to $1.36 1/2. July, $1.35 1/2 to $1.36 1/2, and September, $1.35 1/2 to $1.36 1/2. Corn was 1/4¢ lower to 1/2¢ higher, the former on May, the latter closing at 75¢, with July 81¢ and September 84¢. Oats lost 1/4¢ to 1/2¢, with May 45¢ to 46¢, and July 46¢ to 47¢, while rye more 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ lower, with May $1.04 1/2 to $1.05 1/2, and July $1.02 1/2.

Trade in wheat was slow throughout the day, with the highest figures made early, and the lowest toward the close, buying against bids being a factor in checking the decline. Winnipeg was easy and 1/4¢ lower at the close, with hedging pressure more in evidence than for some time. Bulk of the trade was a local character. Liverpool closed 1/2¢ higher to 1/4¢ lower, the former on March, while October showed the decline. Buenos Aires was 1/4¢ lower at the close, with May $1.25 1/2 and June, $1.31 1/2. May corn, which has been showing the most strength of late, reversed its action and went to 1/4¢ under the July, compared with 3/4¢ at one time early, selling by commission houses and local operators being a factor. Buying against bids helped to check the decline. Failure of the cash demand to improve, and an increase of 1,454,000 bu in the visible led to some selling by three locals. Visible supply is now 43,521,000 bu, against 33,800,000 bu last year. Spot demand showed improvement, with the basis steady to 1/4¢ higher. Movement has fallen off materially, and arrivals for the day were only 124 cars.

Trade in oats was light and it took but little selling to bring about a lower level of prices. A good part of the receipts of 140 cars went to cereal interests. An increase of 250,000 bu in the visible supply of rye led to selling of futures by local traders, and more than offset the effect of clearances of 437,000 bu during the last week at the seaboard.

BILLION DOLLAR
FINANCING SHOWS
STABILITY OF U. S.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The next few days will witness a shifting of credit aggregating over $1,000,000,000. A decade or so ago, such a vast financial operation would have been attended with turmoil in the money and financial markets. But such has become the power of American finance and such is the efficacy of our federal reserve system that such operations are accomplished with scarcely a ripple. They are prepared beforehand and taken as commonplace. The portion of the present financing will consist of government operations.

The treasury will pay out more than $700,000,000 today, but it will withdraw only about $23,000,000 from its deposits in the federal reserve banks. It will profit tax payments.

The government will pay out more than $600,000,000 in retiring maturing treasury notes and making interest payments on the public debt. In addition to paying interest of about $30,000,000 on Liberty bonds, the government also will pay $15,000,000 to holders of the second Liberty loan to holders of their bonds for new 2 1/2 per cent treasury notes. Such interest is not due for two years, but is offered as a premium for exchanging 4 1/2 per cent obligations for those bearing a lower interest rate.

Crude Oil Prices Out.

It appears doubtful whether the petroleum industry will correct the present situation of overproduction in the near future. Further cutting of both crude oil and gasoline prices occurred yesterday. Gasoline prices in the Oklahoma fields failed to reach an agreement for cooperative production. President W. C. Teague of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey predicted overproduction will continue for many months.

A new cut of 10 cents a barrel in five grades of midcontinent crude oil was announced by the Humble Oil and Refining company yesterday. The price range from 70 cents to $1.37 a barrel. The Ohio cut, which has been ranging from 10 to 13 cents in seven grades of central west crude, was reduced the new price range from $1.12 to $1.71 a barrel. Gasoline prices were reduced a cent a gallon in most of the Atlantic seaboard states and in Nebraska.

Business Largely Profitable.

Although the volume of business of the United States Iron Pipe and Foundry company last year, the margin of profit was smaller than in 1925, due to higher prices for raw materials. The annual production of 1,549,467 feet of pipe, valued at $1,049,467, was sold at $1,149,467. This is equivalent to a share of $11.49, or 10 per cent on the common stock. Surplus after paying 10 per cent on the common stock was $1,049,467. After appropriating $1,000,000 for interest, total surplus was reduced to $1,171,047. Net profit for 1925 was $1,171,047, equivalent to $11.71 a share on the common stock.

The balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1926, shows current assets of $1,817,402; increase, $2,339,327; plant, etc., $1,817,402; increase, $1,817,402; other assets, $1,817,402; increase, $1,817,402; current liabilities, $1,817,402; decrease, $1,817,402; reserves, $1,817,402; increase, $1,817,402; funded debt, $1,817,402; increase, $1,817,402; surplus, $1,817,402; decrease, $1,817,402.

Inland Steel Profit Up.

The annual report of the Inland Steel company shows net profit of $7,147,704 for 1926. This is equivalent, after preferred dividends, to $5.45 a share on the common stock of no par common stock. WALL STREET NOTES

New York, March 14.—(AP)—Reactionary price tendencies predominated in today's stock market although several strong spots cropped out during the session. Trading showed a market contraction in volume, with floor traders again providing the bulk of the day's business.

Widespread net gains were brought about through liquidation of the oil by tired holders of long stock. Some of the pipe line shares, such as Illinois and Prairie, showed good gains, but Vacuum dropped 3 points and most of the other active issues yielded fractionally. Tidewater-Associated common stock to a new low below $20 a share, then profited in that stock existing on March 20, unless a further extension is arranged. Lion Oil received road support on reports that 13,000 carloads were well above dividend requirements.

Sharp gains were recorded by a number of ordinarily inactive public utilities such as Alabama Power, preferred, Blackstone Valley Gas & Electric, and Southern Cities Utilities common and certificates. Among the active issues, American Gas & Electric and Consolidated Gas of New York (new) made the best showing.

In the industrial group, new high records were recorded by Case, Plow, General Plow, Massey Harris, and a few others. The general run of industrial loss ground, although in most cases the losses were held to fractions.

The bond market was quiet on the eve of the first quarterly interest date. Nevertheless, the prospect of clearing away the tax payments without any strain on the money market held prices steady. The trade in railway bonds was of a mixed character. First mortgages and other gilt edged lines being in fair demand, while most of the convertible issues were being bought by realising. International Great Northern Advanced 4 1/2 advanced a point on moderately heavy buying.

Bright Sayings
of the Children

In an unguarded moment little three year old Marjorie led her baby brother who was just learning to walk, down the basement steps. Some miracle prevented an accident, but when mother recovered sufficiently from her fright to give Marjorie a severe lecture the little three year old calmly replied: "Well, my goodness, ain't he got to learn sometime?" Mrs. Z.

Junior and his father were out walking. "There's the house," said Junior, "where the third best fighter in our room lives."

"Well, well," said father, absently. "And there," Junior pointed out a nearby bungalow, "is where the second best fighter in our room lives."

"Indeed," answered father, as they turned in at their own gate. "And where, may I ask, does the first best fighter live?"

"O," said Junior, matter-of-factly, "he lives here." E. K.
